

Drought Relief Program Helps Texas Farmers

By MARTHA COLE
DEL RIO, Tex. —Texas ranchers say the government's drought relief program is helping, but they'll still settle for a good rain. Del Rio hasn't had a good rain in four years.
This area along the Texas-Mexican border used to have some of the richest ranching spreads in Texas. It was a country of fine horses, purebred stock and big cars. Now the ranchers rattle into town in dusty old pickup trucks asking for government help to save their foundation herds.
Two Kinds of Aid
The government offered two kinds of emergency help for the drought area of the Southwest this summer—a livestock loan program with 5 per cent interest rate and three years to pay, and cut-rate feed for the cattle on the grassless ranges. Local county committees handle and approve applications.
Twenty loans already have been made to ranchmen of the Del Rio area, although the program started only July 30. Everybody's pleased.
On the cheap feed program, says County Agent Tommy Tatum:
"Grain is coming in—not enough, but we're getting our share. Cotton seed meal and cake are coming in—not enough, but we expect more next week."
Pressure Relieved
"There's not any way to estimate the value of the program—it's relieved the pressure," said wool buyer Noel C. Fry of Del Rio. "But only rain will relieve the situation."
The outlook for rain in Val Verde county, where Del Rio is, was bleak. The county had its 69th day of 100-plus temperatures yesterday.
From Del Rio to Big Spring, 200 miles to the northwest, is the critical area. More than 300 stockmen around Big Spring have received drought emergency feed. Financial condition isn't considered on requests—just how many cattle and sheep the stockman has and how much feed he needs.
From Del Rio to the top of the Texas Panhandle it's a shoot of 560 miles through the west Texas drought.
General Rains Needed
Texas has 152 counties—almost two thirds of its 263,644 square miles land area—in the drought disaster area.
Some rain has fallen on 66 of those counties since President Eisenhower designated them as eligible for drought relief, and 44 of these have had pretty good rains.
"General rains are still needed before the extreme drought is relieved," said Louis P. Merrill of Fort Worth, regional director of the Soil Conservation Service.
Grass that turned green after rains in the Panhandle two weeks ago was beginning to brown again under the searing sun. Potter County Agent Gene Southall of Amarillo said the capacity of the Panhandle ranges had been reduced 50 to 60 per cent by damage to grass root systems. Requests for emergency feed continued.
At Lubbock, 120 miles south of Amarillo, almost everybody agreed the feed program was successful. The only complaint came from R. C. Young, Lubbock feed dealer, who charged that persons not in financial need were getting the cut-rate feed.

Piccioni Unable To Form Cabinet
ROME —Attilio Piccioni said today that he has abandoned his efforts to form a middle-of-the-road government and end the Italian government crisis.
The 61-year-old Christian Democrat's statement came as a complete shock to Italian political circles. He had been expected to name his cabinet today.

Russia Is Buying Heavily In Butter
LONDON —Russia—a prewar exporter of butter—has quietly started purchases in Western markets, totalling more than 25,000 tons, an international survey showed today.
This is not a large amount from the viewpoint of domestic consumption but it looms high on the international market. Russians are negotiating now in New Zealand, Australia, Holland and Denmark.

'Soldier Shot Every Mile In Death March'

TOKYO ARMY HOSPITAL —Only 17 days after the war began — while fighting with the U. S. 24th Division. He was 18 at the time.
"We started the death march Oct. 31, '50."
"We ended the death march Nov. 10, '50."
"We marched about 90 miles and there was more than a man a mile shot," Thompson recalled. "We started off with 723 men. Around 600 ended it. There was no food, except a little corn, and no rest. Some of the men were badly wounded. They didn't make it."
The men were in such bad shape when they reached the North Korean settlement that "they couldn't even sit up for lectures," Thompson said.
American Troops May Be In Korea For Several Years
SEOUL —U. S. Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said today he believes American and other Allied troops will remain in Korea "for several years."
Stevens then left for the United States by plane after an eight-day visit.
Before his departure, Stevens visited Freedom Village to greet returning U. S. prisoners of war. "We are getting all the information we possibly can from all returning POWs about those soldiers who are missing," he told reporters.
"But we can only take whatever action the government deems appropriate at the proper time."
Stevens referred to stories of American prisoners jailed by the Communists for "some so-called infringements of the rules."

16-Year-Old Youth Killed By Elephant
DANVILLE, Ky. —Police said no further investigation is planned in the death of 16-year-old Tommy Aldridge, reported by a circus attendant to have been picked up by an elephant and tossed over a truck.
Aldridge, of Paris, Ky., died in a hospital Tuesday after having been unconscious since the accident Monday night.
The youth joined the Diano Brothers Circus several days ago when it played at Paris.

Taylor Urges Junior College At Escanaba

LANSING —A legislative committee on higher education may study the advisability of continuing the Sault Ste. Marie branch of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology.
This subject was on a list submitted to the committee Tuesday at an organization meeting by Chairman Richard L. Thomson (R-Highland Park) for possible consideration.
There has been criticism among some legislators that the state-supported branch is too expensive and not needed.
At the same time, the committee heard Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, recommend that 10 new junior colleges be added to the present system of 14 to permit more opportunities for college education.
The new junior colleges are needed, he said, at Houghton, Iron Mountain, Menominee, Escanaba, Petoskey, Cadillac, Niles, Battle Creek, Midland and Monroe.
Members of the steering committee of the Council of College Presidents attended the meeting to outline their studies along the same general lines as the committee. The legislators said they did not want to overlap the work of the steering committee but would use their findings.
The steering committee members of the staffs of college presidents, said they are studying the fields of teach education, field and extension services, graduate and professional education, and population growth and distribution.
Meanwhile, Gov. Williams announced he asked the council of college presidents to meet with him Friday. He said the meeting would be a follow-up of a conference with the presidents on Mackinac Island on the state's needs in the higher education field.
Williams said he hoped Friday to go into the problem of the needed additional junior colleges.

Marquette Man Given Freedom

By The Associated Press
Eight Michigan prisoners of war, the greatest number to be returned so far in "Operation Big Switch," were handed over by the Reds at Freedom Village Tuesday night.
This brought to 29 the total number of state servicemen freed by their Communist captors since signing of the Korean truce.
Released last night were:
Cpl. Richard G. Flatley, son of George V. Flatley of Marquette.
Cpl. Steven E. Magiera, son of Frank Magiera of Flint.
Cpl. Dallas W. Mossman, son of Eliza Mossman, also of Flint.
Pfc. Laurence A. Rix, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Rix of Dowagiac.
Cpl. Gilbert J. Broughton, son of Delbert W. Broughton of Wyandotte.
Great Burden Lifted
Sgt. William M. Allen, son of William W. Allen of Lincoln Park.
Pfc. Robert R. Wiggle, son of Mrs. Harriet Klocke of Royal Oak.
Cpl. John G. Ward, son of Mrs. Margie M. Ward of Detroit.
The announcement of the release of Pfc. Wiggle and Cpl. Ward was delayed until after midnight due to atmospheric conditions which affected radio communications from the Far East. Both are 2nd Division soldiers.
Most of the families of the latest freed Michigan men knew their sons had been taken prisoner. But a great burden was lifted from their hearts by the official announcement.
Dowagiac neighbors informed Mrs. Lloyd H. Rix that her son had been exchanged.
"We've hoped and prayed for this," she said. "Now we can begin planning the biggest celebration you ever saw."
Rix, captured Nov. 2, 1950, has four brothers and sisters living at home and three more living in the Detroit area.
Mrs. Flatley Stunned
Mrs. Rix said she had seen her son in a picture of eight Michigan prisoners taken by Associated Press photographer Frank Noel, himself a prisoner who was released Saturday.
At Marquette, Mrs. George V. Flatley was so stunned she could not quite realize what had happened.
"I'll be happy in a moment," she sobbed, "but right now I just can't think."

Search Abandoned For Lost Bomber
LONDON —The search for survivors of the 10-engine U. S. Air Force atom bomber which plunged into the sea west of Ireland last Wednesday has been abandoned, the Air Force announced today.
Four airmen were rescued, five bodies were recovered, and 14 other members of the crew are now presumed to have been lost at sea.
No Politics In State Conservation, Says Williams At Ionia
By JAMES A. O. CROWE
IONIA —Gov. Williams, for the first time, used his Governor's Day appearance at the Ionia Free Fair for a report to the people today, choosing the occasion to reaffirm that "We are not going to let politics into conservation in this state."
Privately the governor said he would not announce his plans for his political future as has been rumored.
Sen. Homer S. Ferguson (R-Mich.) was on hand, however, to announce his candidacy for reelection next year.
Prepared Speech
There has been much speculation that Williams would be his Democratic opponent.
In a prepared address, the governor said he had chosen Ionia to reaffirm his conservation policy because "it would be a fitting way in which to remember the late Gov. Fred W. Green," creator of the present non-partisan Conservation Commission. Green was an Ionia resident.

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Williams said it was "unfortunate" that reassurances on the point of non-political conservation was necessary.
"All who value our great public resources are concerned over the events which have taken place in Lansing in recent months," he said.
Raps State Senate
Williams scored the Senate for refusing to confirm his appointment of Ben East of Holly, who classed himself as a political independent, to the Conservation Commission.
He said he was glad the Senate had confirmed a Republican, Robert Brevitz of Battle Creek. But he said it was "very unfortunate" that the qualified man who was not a Republican was rejected by the Senate.

Growing General Strike Throws France Into Chaos

Second Week Of POW Exchange Begins In Korea

By FORREST EDWARDS
PANMUNJOM —One hundred hale and happy Americans streamed through the Bamboo Curtain at Panmunjom today to start the second dramatic week of Korean War prisoner exchange.
But their South Korean comrades again came home in wretched shape, pitiful living skeletons.
Four hundred in all got their freedom during the day: 100 Americans, 25 British, 25 Turks, 250 South Koreans.

Transport Nears U. S.
The Communists promised to hand over 75 Americans, 75 British and 250 South Koreans—all able-bodied—at Thursday's swap, the ninth since the exchange started. This will boost the number of Americans liberated to 823 of 3,313 the Reds said they held.
A big transport carrying the first of the freed prisoners lands at Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco today. Fourteen seriously ill former prisoners and three neuro-psychiatric cases were reported aboard.

After transfer to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco, the men will be moved to hospitals nearest their homes or best suited to handle their ailments.
60 On Hospital Ship
En route home aboard the transport General Walker were 328 healthy ex-POWs. The ship left Korea Tuesday.

Another 60 liberated Americans, classed as sick and wounded, were aboard the hospital ship Haven in Incheon harbor on Korea's west coast. The Haven's departure date has not been announced.
U. N. officials said 222 Chinese Communist prisoners, the last of 5,495 to be repatriated will be delivered to the Reds Thursday, together with 1,800 healthy North Koreans and 360 sick or wounded North Koreans.

Escapes Frustrated
A surly batch of 2,758 Chinese and North Koreans, including 1,200 North Korean civilians, was turned over to the Reds Wednesday.
Four returning American prisoners said escape attempts had been foiled by Chinese because they were turned in by informers in their camp. Each released POW said he was either thrown in jail on reduced rations, beaten or made to stand motionless in the freezing North Korean winter cold after he was caught.
They said names of informers will be turned over to Army authorities. Others threatened, in interviews to newsmen, they would get revenge against "the rats and squealers."

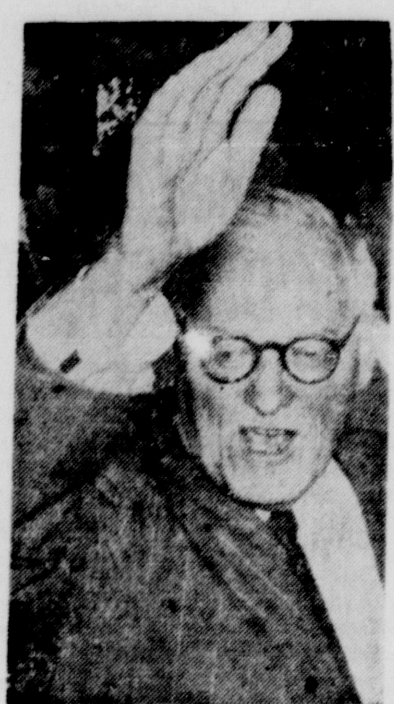

A Missouri soldier said he was thrown into solitary confinement for 42 days because "an American told the Chinese I was planning to kill Chinese."
The informer, said Pfc. Robert Chyers, 24, of Steele, Mo., went through the Freedom Village processing center Wednesday.
"He is in this group right here," Chyers declared.

Biggest Pull Begins Today
ST. IGNACE (P)—The biggest pull yet in the difficult work of crossing the Straits of Mackinac with an oil pipeline was to begin today.
By laying the third, 2,500-foot section of pipe late Tuesday, the workers reached the deep waters of the Straits.
The big winches on the Mackinaw City side of the Straits were being readied today for the job of pulling the 200-inch pipe through the deep waters, considered the trickiest part of the project.
Pulling was halted after the third section was put in place yesterday so that the winches could be repaired and put in top condition for today's work.
However, on this side of the Straits, a fourth section was welded to the line to be in readiness.
Officials of the Lakeland Pipeline Co., building the pipeline to carry oil from Alberta to southern Michigan and eastern Canada, hope that by Thursday they may complete the four-mile crossing with 20,000 feet of pipe. Eight sections in all will be needed.

Strikes Have Grave Portent For France
By PRESTON GROVER
PARIS —Premier Joseph Laniel's proposed economy decrees have precipitated a labor rebellion so strong that it could shake French policy from Indochina to Germany.
Many foreign observers already are fearful that the strikes, so far peacefully directed against possible cuts in pensions and government payrolls, could develop into violence.
That might produce a swing from the rightist governments of the past two years to a left-of-center coalition. And that could mean junking of a lot of foreign policies, including the European army plan for rearming Germany and fighting endlessly for victory in Indochina.

Communists Jump In
The Communist-controlled CGT (General Confederation of Labor) jumped happily into the movement. For three years they have been trying to get just such a consolidation behind a strike move.
Now the strike is aimed not just at the economy decrees but at the government itself.
If Parliament turned on Laniel and voted his Cabinet out, there is a widespread belief that the next government would be decidedly farther to the left and committed to cutting France's military costs by negotiating an end to the war in Indochina.
A leftist government might also sack the European army plan.

Durkin Defends Eisenhower Program
WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of Labor Durkin has defended the Eisenhower administration against criticism by the man who is taking his place as president of the AFL Plumbers Union.
Peter T. Schoemann, acting head of the plumbers while Durkin is on leave, recently described the administration's record as a "pattern of plunder." Schoemann said it attacked organized labor's "hard won" gains, public power and housing and social security.
Durkin, a Democrat, told a news conference Tuesday Schoemann's charges were not "well founded." The secretary recalled that President Eisenhower has recommended broadening social security coverage and changing the Taft-Hartley law—both tabbed for congressional action next year.

Grand Juror May Shift Inquiry To Schoolcraft County

MANISTIQUE —Circuit Judge Donald E. Holbrook of Clare, one-man grand juror probing state timberland sales in Luce County today considered a request to extend his investigation to Schoolcraft County.
The petition came from Attorney General Frank Millard and was filed with the county clerk late Tuesday.
Millard said there were "further irregularities in the Conservation Department."
The grand jury was appointed last Feb. 5 to look into allegations of irregularities in the purchase and sale of state-owned timber land.

Sharp Reduction In Farm Equipment Causes Layoff For Thousands

CHICAGO —Layoffs are expected for thousands of factory workers as the nation's farm equipment industry continues to cut production.
There were 6,500 employees laid off since May 1 in the biggest firm in the field, International Harvester Co. reported. The company said it expects to cut an additional 2,800 from its present force of 60,500 before Labor Day.
Other firms in the industry admitted "adjustments" in manufacturing schedules. "Production and sales have been declining moderately for a number of months resulting in reduction of manufacturing personnel," Deere and Co., Moline, Ill. reported.
Drought Is Blamed
"Some reductions have been substantial, while others are negligible," they said.
"Several hundred" men have been laid off at J. I. Case and Co., Racine, Wis. It was partially a seasonal work force reduction, the company said. Another Racine manufacturer, Massey-Harris Co., said layoffs affecting about 200 employees began this week. The drought and its effect on farmers was blamed by officials.
A general decline in demand for farm equipment and excessive dealer inventories was said to be the cause by a Harvester spokesman.
The decline in farm demand for the machinery is largely the result of the widespread droughts of recent years and a reduction in farm income, other industry spokesmen said.

Income Drop 7%
On the other hand, a Deere official said the farm income for the first half of this year is only 7 per cent under the record high for the first half of 1952.
The spokesman said the company hopes it has trimmed its sales sufficiently but added further cutbacks will be largely dependent upon many factors which affect the ability and willingness of farmers to continue buying equipment.
Although the industry generally has felt it necessary to reduce production of a wide range of farm equipment items, these cuts have not effected employees of firms which devote only part of their efforts to this field.
No Lay-off At Allis-Chalmers
Even if cuts in output of some farm specialty items are made, Caterpillar Tractor Co., of Peoria, reports its 33,000 employees can be kept at work. Among its products are tractors, diesel engines and earth moving equipment.
Although no layoffs have been made at Allis-Chalmers Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, the firm said it is shifting production in an effort to maintain its payroll level.
At Harvester, the cuts have effected most of the firm's line, except corn pickers. Some employees are also expected to be laid off during the next two weeks at its truck factories at Ft. Wayne, Indianapolis and Springfield.
Cuts involving layoffs for 1,700 employees were reported at the big Farmall tractor plant in Rock Island. Rate of production there was cut from 315 tractors a day to 150.

U. S. Bases In Spain Approved

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain —The Spanish Cabinet reportedly has approved an agreement giving U. S. forces the use of Spanish naval and air bases in exchange for military and economic aid. The pact would tie Spain indirectly into the Western alliance against Communist aggression.
Usually well-informed sources said the agreement was okayed by Generalissimo Franco's ministers at a 16-hour meeting Tuesday and would be signed shortly.
Sites of bases wanted by the Americans have not been made public but U. S. Spanish talks reportedly concerned airfields at Madrid, Barcelona and Seville and naval installations at Cadiz and Cartagena.
Recent reports from Washington said the United States tentatively planned to give Spain in exchange 200 million dollars worth of aid during the fiscal year which began July 1. The funds would be used to build up Spanish armed forces and improve the country's road and rail network.
In addition, further American money would be used in developing the bases themselves. The Air Force told the Senate Appropriations Committee last month it planned to spend up to 100 million dollars on the four fields.

shave expenses. The economy cuts were aimed first at rail, postal and civil service workers without any obvious blows at the big industrial powers which long have enjoyed what most Frenchmen think is an unfair tax advantage.
Later revisions may hit the rich with more taxes, but no such decrees have yet been made public.
Unlike most French strikes of recent years, this wave did not start with the Communists. Instead, it sprang from the lower level of government workers who fear that their pensions will be cut or their very jobs imperiled by the economies.
Communists Jump In
The Communist-controlled CGT (General Confederation of Labor) jumped happily into the movement. For three years they have been trying to get just such a consolidation behind a strike move.
Now the strike is aimed not just at the economy decrees but at the government itself.

Three Million Workers May Be Off Thursday

PARIS —New strikes were called today in the clothing and metal working industries and government offices of France.
The country already is tied in knots by walkouts in travel and communications enterprises.
Three million workers, irked at the government's plans to balance its budget by trimming payrolls and upping the retirement age for civil servants, may be off the job Thursday. About a million were striking today.
But multimillionaire Premier Joseph Laniel showed no signs of abandoning his economy guns.

More Strikes Ahead
The Socialist union, Force Ouvriere (FO, or Workers' Force) issued the call for a 48-hour strike in government offices. The clerks walked out last week for 24 hours. The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor (CGT) probably will follow suit.
Stoppages for Thursday in the metal working and clothing industries also were called. These walkouts would affect all automobile plants.
Railroads, mines, public utilities, government services, posts, telephone and telegraphs were all paralyzed or hit hard.

Tourists Disgusted
The Socialist Workers' Force (FO) called on 850,000 white collar workers—doctors, dentists, lawyers and office employees—to join the strikers for 24 hours Thursday.
Paris subways and buses halted late last night for 24 hours.
Disgusted tourists fled the strike-bound country. With trains and buses halted, every outgoing plane was jammed.
Many vacationers were running out of money; the communications strike kept them from getting more from home. France's tourist industry faced huge losses.
The government called on troops to man trucks and buses and some troops also worked on the piled-up mails.

Began Last Week
The strike wave began last week when non-Communist postal, telephone and telegraph employees quit, saying they would stay out until Laniel abandoned his then only rumored retrenchment plans.
The Socialist FO, backed by the Communist-controlled CGT (General Confederation of Labor) and the Christian Trades Federation brought the striking total to two million with a 24 to 48-hour walk-out last Friday and Saturday.
The Red CGT called this week's outbreak, tacking on demands for general salary increases and the ouster of what it termed Laniel's "reactionary" Cabinet. Non-Communist unions were quick to support the strike calls.
To further add to Laniel's harassment, the wine growers of southern France announced plans for their third widespread barricading of highways in their section—for 12 hours on Friday. Demanding that the government buy their huge surplus of wine, they have already blocked traffic in the region twice, for four hours two weeks ago and for six last week.

Student Medical Plan Considered By Schools Here

A student medical plan which would provide insurance protection for children going to and from school, in the classroom and on playgrounds, was discussed by members of the Escanaba Board of Education during a regular meeting last night.

Details on the insurance plan, available only to schools, were presented by School Supt. John A. Lemmer. The policies can be written without requirement of a minimum percentage of students, and premiums on them are paid for by parents, the superintendent said. Cost per child would be $1, he said.

The board authorized the superintendent to present the proposal to parents of students in Escanaba public schools, provided further investigation indicates the policy would be desirable. The firm, insurance proposal and schedule of benefits will be checked with the insurance advisor in the State Department of Public Instruction, Supt. Lemmer said.

Driver Training Report

The medical plan was outlined to the superintendent by an agent for the firm of Higham, Neilson, Whitridge, Reid, Inc., American Casualty Company of Reading, Pa., Supt. Lemmer reported.

The policy, he said, is reported to cover students traveling to and from school, while in attendance at school, while participating in intramural sports, "gym" and other physical education activities, and while participating in school-sponsored, supervised activities away from school and after school hours, except interschool activities such as varsity sports.

During the School Board meeting last night, Supt. Lemmer reported that 46 students completed the first of two driver training courses offered here this summer, and that 50 are enrolled for the second. The first course cost $611.45 and fees collected totaled $138, he reported.

Buy U. S. Bonds

In a report on bus operation and maintenance for the Escanaba public schools, the superintendent noted that the cost in the 1952-53 school year was $3,494.58, or $39 per mile. This is three and a half cents lower than in the 1950-51 school year. Seventy-five to 100 students are transported by bus, the superintendent said.

Other business acted upon by the Board of Education last night was as follows:

Approved payment of bills totaling $12,565.38.

Authorized the superintendent to invest $250,000 in U. S. Treasury bonds, until money from sale of a bond issue is needed to meet costs of the new elementary school in the southwest part of the city. The money when thus invested, accumulates interest at a rate of about two per cent, the superintendent explained.

Bids Accepted

Accepted communication from the architectural firm of Perkins and Will on a suggestion by the Escanaba Insurance Agents Association that contractor's bonds be placed with the Escanaba association. The firm indicated it did not favor the proposal, unless proceeds were for charitable purposes.

Accepted a communication on an order from Judge Glenn W. Jackson, circuit court judge, declaring delinquent taxes totaling $344 and penalties of $12 uncollectable.

Approved buying compensation insurance from Employers Mutual for $872.89.

Accepted bids for school paper, printing supplies, and office supplies. Bids accepted were from Cloverland Paper company, Office Service company, U. P. Office Supply company in Marquette, Oshkosh Paper company, Northern Stationers in Marquette.

Athletic Field
Accepted $948 bid of R. G. Beck for supplying an oil burner, day and night thermostat and 1500-gallon tank for the Washington School; and bid of $155 of H. W. Gasman for an unused coal conveyor owned by the school.

Set salary for the Senior High School secretary, and moved that the board express its appreciation to Percy Rosemurgy, who provided driver training cars for the school's driver training program.

Approved use of the athletic field by St. Joseph school, under same regulations as in previous years.

Received reports on physical examination of two new teachers.

BARK RIVER — The annual Summer Round-Up of the Bark River-Harris Township schools will be held Friday, Aug. 14, at 9 a. m. at the Bark River Town Hall. Dr. William C. Harrison and Miss Irene Larson, RN, will be in charge. All children who are to enter school this fall will be examined at the round-up.

NEW RADIO TOWER—Workmen yesterday completed the erection of a 150-foot antenna tower for Radio Station WESK, a new station to begin broadcasting in Escanaba Sept. 15. ## Safety Patrol Program Given Nine hours of solid-packed entertainment is included in the program announced today for the safety patrol youngsters at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in Escanaba on Tuesday, August 18.

Sponsoring the "Safety Recognition Day" at the U. P. State Fair for the second consecutive year are the Michigan State Police, U. P. Fair Board and the Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette.

Purpose of the event is to honor the hundreds of safety patrol students and instructors, who during the school year spend countless hours in the cause of safety, guiding children safely across intersections. It begins at 1 p. m.

Expect Nearly 1500
Last year, 795 boys and girls attended. This year, about twice that number will be feted, and every major community in the Peninsula will be represented.

The program actually will begin, promptly at 1 p. m., in the Escanaba Junior High School, on Ludington Street, where boys and girls will be greeted by Lieutenant Governor Clarence Ried, Detroit, and Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, Lansing, of the Michigan State Police.

Parents and others bringing children there for the program were reminded to be on hand before 1 o'clock, as the program will begin at that time. Once started, there will not be any variation from the schedule, due to the length of the program.

Those transporting children to the Junior High School were assured by the Safety Patrol Committee that there will be sufficient parking space, as all the area adjacent to the building will be roped off for parking, and that it will not be necessary to hunt for parking space.

Rides, Picnic and Show
Following greetings by Lt. Gov. Ried and Commissioner Childs, there will be an appearance by Sergeant William Preston and his dog, Yukon King, stars of the "Sgt. Preston" radio program heard over the Mutual Network. This will be followed by an hour-long movie.

From 2:45 to 4:45 p. m. members of safety patrols will be admitted free of charge to every ride being presented by the Blue Ribbon Carnival at the U. P. Fair.

From 4:45 to 6:45 p. m. there will be an "old fashioned picnic", staged in the area next to the 4-H Club buildings. Youngsters will be served fruit, pop, hot dogs, ice cream and everything else that goes to make up a typical picnic.

From 6:45 to 8 p. m., boys and girls will be free to visit the various exhibits and other attractions at the fairgrounds.

At 8:15 p. m., they will be guests of the U. P. Fair Board at the grandstand show, at which time

School Board Revises Local Teacher Policy

The Escanaba Board of Education, in regular meeting Tuesday night in the superintendent's office in the Junior High School, revised its policy on hiring local candidates to fill teaching positions.

The new policy opens the way for hiring of "unqualified successful" teachers who are graduates of high schools in Escanaba, provided they have two years teaching experience in the same schools, preferably in the same school.

Recommendations on teacher applications are presented to the board by the superintendent before contracts are executed.

Two Teachers Resign

The board last night also adopted a salary schedule for full-time substitute teachers, with $2800 and $3400 as low and top. No changes were made in policy of hiring married women as teachers. The new salary schedule for substitute teachers will cost $1400 more. No substitute teacher will receive an increase of more than $200 per year.

Approval was given last night by the board for executing contracts with new teachers for Escanaba schools. The board sanctioned the application of Miss Catherine LaRocque of St. Ignace, Marquette University graduate, to teach Junior High School English and library, and Senior High School Latin; and that of Donald Waterman of Appleton, Wis., graduate of Lawrence College who formerly taught in Republic. Waterman will teach vocal music in the Junior and Senior High Schools.

Resignation of two Escanaba teachers and cancellation of a contract for another were accepted. Bernard Treado, ungraded room teacher, resigned to accept a position at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti and study for his doctorate; and Jean Bunks resigned to study at Columbia University in New York and accept a position.

Contract of Richard Anderson of Milwaukee, new teacher who was to come here, who has been placed in 1-A Selective Service classification and is entering military service, was cancelled.

Approve Early Dismissal
The school superintendent, John A. Lemmer, reported to the board that resignation of the ungraded room teacher may necessitate closing one of three ungraded rooms in the public school system.

He indicated Gladstone and township students may not be accepted if this is necessary.

In other business last night the school board officially confirmed appointment of George Ruwitch as assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum and Allan Mathison as director of student activities in Escanaba Senior High School. The board also approved a 3 p. m. dismissal hour one Monday each month in the school year to permit teachers to attend curriculum meetings with the assistant superintendent.

A certificate of achievement from Michigan State College for John Bartel, school custodian, for completion of a course in building maintenance and operation and a letter of appreciation from Margaret Fitzsimmons, teacher who retired, were received by the board last night.

Blood Clinic Is Scheduled Here

A three-day blood collection clinic is scheduled to be held in Delta county Sept. 30 and Oct. 1-2, it was announced today by Atty. William E. Anderson, chairman of the Delta County Chapter, American Red Cross.

The Michigan Department of Health is collecting the blood for processing into plasma, gamma globulin (used in control of paralytic polio), and other blood derivatives to be credited to Delta County.

A total of 338 pints of blood is the quota for the three-day clinic which will be held Sept. 30 in Gladstone, and Oct. 1-2 in Escanaba.

William Butler of Escanaba is chairman of the committee to recruit donors for the clinic. Individuals will be contacted and asked to register as donors in a house-to-house canvass of communities.

The defense Department has cancelled its order for blood derivatives and all of the blood collected here will be credited to Delta County, it was reported.

This year the production of gamma globulin for use in immunizing against paralytic polio will be emphasized, it is reported by Dr. A. R. Wiley, medical director of the Department of Health mobile blood unit. Dr. Wiley attended a meeting of local Red Cross officials Monday evening in advance preparation for the clinic.

No charge is made to residents of Michigan for blood plasma and other derivatives returned to the counties. However, the physician or hospital may charge for professional services and supplies incidental to their use.

U. P. Bear Season Will Open Saturday

The first open season for hunting bear from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15 has brought many questions on the conduct of the season, the conservation department reports.

The conservation commission has set up the season for the entire Upper Peninsula. The license required is the small game license—the one that was purchased last fall for hunting upland birds and rabbits.

Firearms of any gauge or caliber that otherwise comply with firearm regulations as listed in the 1952 Game Law Digest may be used. Bows and arrows are also permitted.

Bear dogs may be used. The bag limit is one bear per person per calendar year. There are certain restrictions of interest to the bear hunters during this season.

1. Firearms may not be carried or transported in any area frequented by wild birds or animals between hours of sunset and sunrise.

2. Firearms must be broken down or enclosed in case, or carried in trunk of car when being transported in or upon a motor vehicle.

3. Bows must be unstrung when transported in or upon a motor vehicle.

It is expected that hunters with bear dogs will take advantage of this season. Also, many of the cottagers, campers, and rural residents who have had bear frequenting their areas.

SEAMS ARE TEST

When buying children's clothes, make sure the fasteners are firmly sewn, the seams flat with edges protected against raveling, and all stitching strong. Worked or bound buttonholes are more practical than loops of thread or fabric.

Careers of cedar poles on power lines are numbered, due to spur marks of service men. A pole climbed 75 times becomes unsafe and must be replaced.

Merchants Seek To Halt Shoplifting

Escanaba merchants will meet with Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas P. Chapekis and Glen S. Leonard, Escanaba safety director, on Aug. 27, to discuss methods to curb shoplifting by juveniles.

Warren Morrison, chairman of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce retail merchant committee, today said that shoplifting has become an increasing problem.

"A considerable amount of the theft is by juveniles," he added. "The merchants want to find out what can be done with juveniles under the law to discourage their shoplifting activities."

The merchants and the law enforcement officers will confer at a dinner meeting to be held at the Delta Hotel.

State Condemns Escanaba Jail

Escanaba city jail has been condemned by W. H. Nestle, state inspector of jails, and he recommends that it be "closed forthwith," according to a letter addressed to City Clerk George Harvey.

Nestle in his letter noted that he had inspected the city jail, in connection with the police station, on July 9, 1953, and found it in the "same condition" as it was in the past five or six years. He described the toilet as "deplorable" and reported that the floor was "eaten through" around it. Nothing has been done to remedy the condition, he wrote.

The city was advised that it would be given 30 days to notify the inspector if the condition had been corrected, or he would bring the matter to the attention of the attorney general.

City Clerk Harvey said that copies of Nestle's letter have been forwarded to each Escanaba councilman.

The Council is scheduled to meet tonight in special session with Escanaba truckers in connection with a discussion of policy regarding stickers for use by trucks using metered parking spaces to load and unload.

The city jail was not in use today because there were no persons arrested who had to be detained there.

Auto And Trailer Wrecked, No One Hurt In Accident

MANISTIQUE—A one-car accident involving a car driven by Mack Short of Wayland, Mich., (a former sheriff of Allegan County) occurred one mile east of Garden Junction on US-2 yesterday at 12:02 p. m. There were no injuries.

Short was towing a house trailer and one of the trailer's wheels went off the edge of the highway, snapping the trailer hitch. The trailer jolted forward and hit the car, which rolled over three times. The house trailer, valued at $3,000 was destroyed. The car also was demolished.

No arrests were made by the Michigan State Police of the Manistique Post, who were called to the scene of the accident.

PMA To Hold Wheat Quota Vote Friday

The wheat marketing quota referendum to be held August 14 will be conducted at the PMA office, Escanaba post office building, Room 312, Escanaba, advised Chairman Frank J. Brander of the Delta County Production and Marketing Administration Committee. Polling place will be open from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Chairman Brander urges every eligible wheat grower to vote, since the outcome of the referendum will materially affect the price farmers receive for their 1954 wheat. He points out that if two-thirds or more of those voting favor marketing quotas, wheat loans at 90 percent of parity will be available to those who plant within their wheat acreage allotments.

If marketing quotas are rejected by the growers, quotas will not be in effect and the support rate on 1954 wheat will support 50 percent of parity for cooperators.

Acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1954 wheat crop regardless of the outcome of the referendum, he explains. If marketing quotas are in effect, those who exceed their allotments must store or dispose of their excess wheat as directed by the Secretary of Agriculture or pay the marketing penalty on the excess wheat. The marketing penalty is 45 percent of wheat parity as of May 1, 1954.

School Board Receives 1953 Census Report

The Escanaba school census decreased by 25 this year, a report submitted Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the School Board revealed.

The census this year shows 3,983 students 5-19 years of age, as compared with 4,008 last year.

In submitting the census report last night, Supt. John A. Lemmer explained that each censustaker is assigned a specific area and is given a detailed chart of each house and each family in the particular area. Back-calls are made if necessary, and each house is checked, the superintendent said. Later, census reports are checked against school records to assure accuracy of the census, he pointed out.

The 1953 census showed 1,745 children under 5; 1,494 aged 5 through 9; 1,276 aged 10 through 14; and 1,213 in the 15 through 19 age group.

The under 5 age group and the group 5-9 showed increases over last year and those aged 10-14 and 15-19 showed a decrease. There are eight more children under 5 this year and 14 more aged 5-9.

Other data from the census report revealed that there were 156 new students, 336 5-year-olds added, 255 students who left town and 260 who passed the school census age limit of 19.

Editorials—

Spread Of Communism In France Is Grave Threat To Free World

OCCASIONALLY in this country nation-wide strikes develop that cause us to wonder whether union leaders who direct the strikes are fully aware of the disaster invited by prolonged work stoppage in critical industries. Such strikes that come under this category are those that have developed in coal mining, the steel industry and railroad industries.

And yet no permanent injury has been sustained by the American economy because of these strikes. In every case when the situation became critical ways and means were found to settle the disputes.

A situation is developing in France now, however, that seriously threatens the entire future of that country. On top of a wave of scattered strikes in various industries in France, a series of general strikes have developed. All of them have been fomented by an aggressive and dangerous bloc of Communists.

The French workers, prey to the Red tactics, apparently lack the vision to see that their own welfare is threatened by their actions. France has already fallen a long way from the time when she was a powerful figure in world affairs. Today France is a second-rate nation and is losing prestige with every passing minute. The country is troubled with dissension arising from postwar difficulties. It lacks the economic strength to rebuild. Even worse, it lacks the national fortitude to face its problems courageously and intelligently.

Intelligent workers know that there is no solution of their problems in Communism. Labor unions cannot even exist under Communist dictatorship. And yet French workers, led by a handful of Communist leaders, are falling into a trap which threatens not only to engulf them but all of France.

We in America have a more than casual stake in the French situation and not simply because the billions of dollars that we have tossed in for foreign aid may be lost. If France should fall into the tentacles of Communist domination, it inevitably means the clouds of world war are thickening. Certainly it would threaten the entire European continent with Communist control.

Ultimately it would provide Soviet Russia, the Communist master, with the power of hundreds of millions of people and the raw materials of an area stretching from the Eastern coastline of Europe to the western shores of China.

The free nations of the world must prevent France from falling to the Communists. The sad part is that we can expect so little help from the French people themselves.

Several states are considering the adoption of the Connecticut system of grading traffic violators. The driver involved in a fatal accident is assessed 10 points and loses his license. The same number of demerits are assessed against drunken driving. Reckless driving gets six demerits, speeding three, crashing a red light two. Anyone with three demerits gets a warning letter from the Motor Vehicle Division. Five bring a summons to report to the Division's offices, and a re-examination may be ordered. Any driver with seven has to show cause why his license should not be suspended. Suspension may be for anywhere from five days to a year and more.

Either because of this system or for some other reason, Connecticut ranks with Rhode Island and Massachusetts as one of the three safest states in which to drive. No wonder that other states are looking into the system.

Probably the important factor is constant watchfulness on the part of officials. Some communities have now all the law they need to make safe roads, but fail to enforce those laws properly.

Try to make people think you are the whole cheese and it doesn't take long to make yourself the offensive kind.

Four cases of toothpaste were stolen from a Buffalo warehouse and police do not suspect children.

Each interview takes an average of an hour and a quarter, and between 350 and 500 questions are asked. The subject sees first the blank card on the table by Dr. Kinsey and they can watch him as he jots down the answers in a code of numbers and letters. No names, addresses or similar identifying data is used.

An instance of Kinsey's persuasiveness occurred shortly after his book on men was published in 1948. The campus humor publication, Crimson Bull, decided to put out an issue lampooning Kinsey's work, so many other college publications were doing at the time.

Five top staff members went to talk to Kinsey about it. They came back convinced it would be a mistake to put out such an issue. "Dr. Kinsey didn't try to tell them they couldn't do it," a faculty member says. "He simply explained his work to them, and they made up their own minds."

In 1941, in the early years of his present work, Dr. Kinsey applied to the National Research Council, probably the top scientific authority in the country, for a grant to carry on the program.

Three ranking scientists came out from the East to see what was what. Kinsey talked them into letting him interview them. Kinsey got his grant and one of the scientists, Dr. George W. Corner, director of the embryology department at the Carnegie Institution, in Washington, said later: "The technique of history-taking employed by Kinsey is skillful beyond the imagination of those who have not experienced it."

Kinsey also has taken the sex history of his married daughter and her husband.

With all his scientific preoccupation, Kinsey is by no means a humorless man. He even keeps a file of jokes about himself.

The University dramatic club once put on a skit about a visitor from the planet Venus who came to the earth to be interviewed by Dr. Kinsey. Coming from a place associated with the goddess of beauty and love, the visitor sailed through the preliminary questioning fine. He knew all the answers.

On the stage were file cabinets marked "His," "Hers," and "Its." Finally the subject went in to be questioned by Dr. Kinsey. There was a great rumpus and an attendant came running out of the doctor's office. "What's the matter?" someone asked. "The subject fainted!" she cried. Dr. Kinsey, who was in the audience, laughed as loud as anyone.

Though he could probably be wealthy if he had capitalized on his work, he continues to live on his $9600 a year salary as a professor. He gets no money for the sale of his books, though the one on men sold over 275,000 copies at $6.50 a copy.

He accepts no fee for lectures. Often he will agree to lecture if the audience, usually a club or organized group, will let him interview them.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It was kept strictly off the record, but ex-Secretary of State Acheson recently gave Democratic senators his private analysis of what is going on inside the Kremlin.

Meeting with the senators privately, he dismissed Premier Malenkov as ambitious but not a "real leader" of Russia. His bold coup against Secret Police Chief Beria has "temporarily" put him in complete control, Acheson said, but the "best mind" in the Politburo is the old Bolshevik, Foreign Minister Molotov.

Acheson described Beria's "biggest mistake" as creating a deputy "who became ambitious and worked closely with Malenkov." The result was that Malenkov "made medicine" with Beria's deputy and, together, they captured the much-feared Secret Police chief and threw him into his own prison to face the same trumped-up charges he had brought against others.

"This was a bold stroke on the part of Malenkov," observed Acheson. "He realized he was taking a great chance, for, had he failed, it would have been his neck instead of Beria's."

Of the Kremlin survivors, Molotov "is by all means the most capable, and has the best mind," Acheson added.

Malenkov, though now in the driver's seat, "is not thought of as a real leader." In shifting power from one dictator to another, Acheson pointed out, any loosening of the iron grip is seized upon by suppressed people as a sign of weakness.

MALENKOV'S MISTAKE

"Malenkov's great mistake, so far as losing over and prestige for the Kremlin, was made when he started to soften immediately after Stalin's death," Acheson explained. "He sent Vishinsky to the United Nations smiling instead of scowling, and over in Berlin the Communists proceeded to soften up on the tough type of administration Stalin had always used."

"The first sign of unrest in Germany came immediately after Malenkov had rescinded some of the more stringent administrative measures and had promised the German people more food, greater variety of goods in the stores and several other measures to lessen their burden," Acheson continued. "It was the easing off on these dictatorial powers that gave the German workers encouragement to request changes in working conditions in the factories, one big factory especially. Much to their surprise, the requests were granted immediately. The initial try was so successful, it encouraged the workers to make additional requests which, in turn, were granted. After the second victory, the workers began to have such confidence in what they might accomplish that they called a strike for additional benefits. The riots followed."

Acheson added that Malenkov's meekness had given heart, not only to the people of East Germany, but all the Soviet satellites.

LESS IRON HAND

"There developed throughout all the satellite countries a lessening of the iron hand—from Malenkov all the way down through the subordinates," he said. "This led the people to feel that perhaps now was the time to make a demonstration for greater privileges and freedoms. Whether Malenkov will now start an entirely opposite tack and attempt to recapture power by going back to the old Stalin strict, hard-boiled dictator methods is a question nobody can answer."

With the Politburo tearing at the seams from internal trouble, the ex-secretary of state urged: "Now is the time we should go ahead with all our plans and programs with greater speed than at any time since Korea started. We all know Russia started her great armament build-up immediately after World War II just as we proceeded with our great armament tear-down. The result was that when the Korean war started, Russia was three years ahead of us and up until now, has been gaining on us."

"We now have an opportunity to lessen the gap. As the Korean war has progressed we have had to divert to that area nearly all of the equipment that we have been able to produce. We have been building plans faster than we are losing them, but we are not building planes faster than Russia."

"By 'full speed ahead,' I do not mean alone," Acheson hastened to add. "And I do not mean to limit it to preparation for war. By 'full speed ahead,' I mean we should do everything we possibly can, putting even greater emphasis on helping our allies. We have made more progress toward getting NATO organized and Western Europe united than anyone could possibly have dreamed a few years ago."

Try to make people think you are the whole cheese and it doesn't take long to make yourself the offensive kind.

Four cases of toothpaste were stolen from a Buffalo warehouse and police do not suspect children.

Report On Kinsey:

How Behavior Researcher Gets His People To Talk About Sex

By WADE JONES

NEA Staff Correspondent

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (NEA)

—What is Dr. Kinsey going to say in his new book about women? How does he get women to tell him all those things about themselves?

Those are probably the two questions most frequently asked about the forthcoming book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female," by Indiana University's Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey.

What the book actually will contain is a secret elaborately guarded by codes, keys, and Kinsey. But some educated guesses can be made on the basis of public, but little publicized, statements by the author and from information attributed to him.

In a speech in Indianapolis in March he was quoted as saying "not so" to the following statements.

Women respond less quickly than men to sexual stimuli. Woman's response is fundamentally different from man's. Women require an emotional and psychological stimulation which men don't.

He was reported to have said at that time also that less than 50 per cent of sexual activity in America occurs in the state of marriage.

On another occasion he was quoted as saying it was a myth that there is more homosexual activity among men than women. He had earlier said that 26 per cent of men between the ages of 31 and 35 engaged at some time in homosexuality.

Are women freer in their sex life than they were 20 years ago? No. They talk about it more, but their actions aren't widely different.

Which brings up the point of how Kinsey is able to get women and men to talk so frankly on such tender subjects.

People who have been interviewed say they are put at ease immediately by his impersonal yet friendly manner, and that they soon develop complete confidence in him because of his obvious sincerity.

Each interview takes an average of an hour and a quarter, and between 350 and 500 questions are asked. The subject sees first the blank card on the table by Dr. Kinsey and they can watch him as he jots down the answers in a code of numbers and letters. PRICELESS BLOOD—Delta County, as in most counties in Michigan, has a record of failure in meeting established blood collection quotas.

The blood in your body is priceless—but when your body needs blood or blood derivatives because of illness it is still more priceless.

And peculiarly enough, the blood derivatives supplied through the Department of Health program comes back to the people of the state without a price tag attached. The only charge made, if state blood plasma or other derivatives is received by the patient, is the cost to the doctor and the hospital for its administration.

Note: Whole blood is not supplied by the state. Patients who need transfusions of whole blood must obtain it through local donors.

BE A DONOR—A three-day blood collection clinic is scheduled in Delta County this fall, one day in Gladstone and two in Escanaba.

Sometime before the date of Sept. 30 you will no doubt be approached and asked to register as a blood donor. Barring some physical condition or disability that would make it unwise for you to give blood, your answer should be "Yes."

The quota for the county is 338 pints—which will mean the registration of at least that many donors.

Because the Defense Department is cancelling its request for blood, all of the blood collected here will be processed into plasma and other derivatives and credited to Delta County.

THE PROCESSING—The American Red Cross cooperates in the collections clinic by obtaining donors.

What happens to your whole blood before it is returned as derivatives to your local hospital and to your family doctor for use in Delta County?

It is processed in laboratories of the Michigan Department of Health into:

Plasma—Used in preventing or treating shock from accidents, childbirth, burns and surgery.

Immune serum globulin—For the modification or prevention of measles and infectious hepatitis.

Gamma globulin—For the prevention of paralytic polio.

Antihemophilic globulin—To control bleeding from hemophilia and in certain types of hemorrhage.

Normal serum albumin—For treatment of liver and kidney diseases and for use as an emergency plasma substitute.

Again, no charge is made to Michigan residents for these products, although the physician or hospital may charge for professional services and supplies incidental to their use.

MARQUETTE PROGRAM—Use of gamma globulin came dramatically to the polio front in recent years of research.

Early this summer it was used in the Upper Peninsula for the first time when approximately 9,000 children in Marquette County received gamma globulin immunization.

The rush for the protection against crippling polio is indicated in the fact that the total "shots" given was 300 in excess of the number of children in that age group in Marquette County.

Parents from other counties had "smuggled" their children in for the immunization.

Rated a polio epidemic area, one-half of the gamma globulin was supplied by the state and one-half by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Of the 19 polio cases in that county, 17 were of the paralytic variety.

LOOKING AHEAD—Last year Delta County was hard hit by a polio epidemic. Two of the victims of polio continue to receive treatment in the clinic at Marquette. Other paralytic cases are home again—with long years of treatment ahead of them.

Perhaps gamma globulin, if it had been available for immunization of Delta County youngsters last year, would have in many cases prevented the development of paralysis.

Perhaps it would have meant the difference between handicaps and suffering and heartbreak—and a quick recovery without paralysis.

There is no price high enough to place an adequate value on the life and happiness of children. Yet you, by giving blood, can contribute that priceless material from which is derived the equally priceless blood products that fight illness and death.

Waterfowl Regulations For 1953 Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—Duck hunters in the Atlantic and Pacific flyways will have five more hunting days this season than last under migratory waterfowl regulations announced today by the Interior Department.

The regulations will give the flyways their longest season since 1945.

Secretary of the Interior McKay announced the 1953-54 basic regulations and said specific shooting dates for the individual states are to be chosen by them and be announced later.

55 Days In Michigan
States may generally choose their hunting days anytime between Oct. 1 and Jan. 10, based on the number of days allotted the flyways in which they lie.

The Michigan Conservation Commission has already decided to permit hunting the full 55 days allowed in the Mississippi Flyway and to start the Michigan season Oct. 1. This means the Michigan season will run through Nov. 24 as last year.

The Mississippi Flyway season, covering Michigan, will be 55 consecutive days or two periods of 25 days each, the same as last year.

"With the breeding population about the same and production slightly decreased in most of the important areas, the forecast is for a reduced fall flight compared to 1952 but still well above the

Russia Purchases Australian Butter

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—New Zealand charged Russia 35 to 40 pounds ($98-$112) more per ton for a 1,000-ton purchase of butter than Britain has to pay, a government spokesman disclosed today—and still the Soviets want more.

The spokesman said negotiations are going on for a Soviet purchase of another 2,000 tons of butter and possibly some meat.

In a seven-year contract which started this month, New Zealand sells 96 per cent of her butter to Britain at 326 pounds ($912.80) a ton.

Petticoat Squad Joins Police Force

CLARKSVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A petticoat squad has joined the police force of this northeastern Missouri town in an effort to crack down on traffic violators.

Thirteen women, all members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, are on the force.

The women met recently with the City Council to declare war on traffic violators. One suggestion was to commission women as police officers. Mayor M. F. Duvall took them up on the idea.

Wood Floors Thrive On Wax And Rubbing

Oak, maple, fir, pine and other wood floorings should be sealed for protection. Varnish, lacquer or shellac is suitable. This finish will not easily become ground off from dirt and foot treads if regular wax care is given to it. The best type of wax to use on wood floors is the kind requiring polishing. Deteriorated wood floors, in particular, should be given polishing, rather than self polishing, wax treatment.

Fish House, Now For Sale, Is Oldest On Lake Superior

MARQUETTE—An era came to an end in Marquette last week when the Peter Anderson Fish House, Lake Superior's oldest commercial fishing company, was put up for sale.

Members of the Anderson family have carried on the business continuously through three generations since it was started in 1874.

The decision to sell followed the death of John August Anderson last month. He was the oldest Sailboats replaced the skiffs for commercial fishing and these, in turn, gave way to the gas engine.

About 1900, the company bought an 87 foot steam tug, named the Columbia. The Peter A was built in 1933.

Peter Anderson died in 1944. The present operator, Ed Anderson, is his grandson.

Herring catches have fallen off considerably in recent years, but the company still ships considerable amounts of fish to metropolitan markets, the younger Anderson said. He has noticed a steady decline in fish populations in Lake Superior, and blames this on over-fishing.

Music Under Stars To Feature Guest Soloists Thursday

The "Music Under the Stars" concert Thursday night in Hall Stadium will feature several guest soloists including flute and piccolo, baritone horn, and accordion players, it has been announced. The soloists will play with the municipal band.

Sharon Kathleen Graves, a Hazel Park High School senior who is visiting her father, Carl Graves, at the Hotel Ossa, will play the flute and piccolo. Another soloist, Rudy Greisheimer, who is with the research department of Mead Corp., was once a soloist with Frank Simon's concert band.

Greisheimer, who will play the baritone horn, is a soloist with the Chillicothe High School Band. Janet Dixon, an accordion soloist, was a featured player with the University of Michigan Band during its recent concert tour.

The Legion Junior Drum and Bugle Corps will give a demonstration. Other soloists may be added to the program.

The concert begins at 8:30.

Hospital Book Sale Yields Large Sum

Receipts of about $168,000 made the Hospital Auxiliary book sale held August 3-8 at the Ford Garage a definite success, Mrs. Ian McKilligan, co-chairman, said Tuesday.

Mrs. Helen McGlothlin was the other co-chairman. The money will go into a general fund to be used by the hospital in furnishing a new addition, Mrs. McKilligan said.

Mrs. McKilligan said such success was only made possible by the many members of the community who lent their aid to the project.

'True Or False' Is Fair Feature

The Mutual Broadcasting System's popular quiz show, "True or False," starring Eddie Dunn as master of ceremonies, will be presented at the Upper Peninsula State Fair on Wednesday evening, Aug. 19 and Thursday afternoon, Aug. 20.

The show will be recorded for coast to coast broadcast by the affiliated stations of the Mutual Broadcasting System. Participants will be selected from the grandstand patrons.

Last year at the Upper Peninsula State Fair a Copper Country lady won a new automobile on the MBS quiz show, "Take A Number" and a Kipling lady won a large number of prizes when she hit the jackpot number and answered the jackpot question correctly.

Rudy Vallee, the crooner from Maine, will share the spotlight with Eddie Dunn in the Thursday afternoon performance. Governor's Day at the fair, Rudy Vallee and the Silver Jubilee Varieties will be featured in the grandstand program Thursday night.

The former Marcella Hinker was born Jan. 11, 1902, in Marinette and had spent all of her life in the Twin Cities except for a few years after her marriage when the Doyleys lived in Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

She married Thurman Doyle Aug. 18, 1926, in St. Ann's Church and was a member of St. John's Church and its Women's Auxiliary.

A 1919 graduate of Menominee High School, she had been secretary at the Prescott Company of office and was postmaster of Menominee for four years, the first and only woman to hold Menominee's chief political patronage post.

Survivors include her husband, two sons, Michael of Milwaukee and John of Menominee; one daughter, Kathleen, of Menominee; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hinker of Menominee, and three sisters, Mrs. Louis A. Schmidt and Mrs. Lyle Fehrenbach of Menominee and Mrs. Nelson Hartberg of Marinette.

The body is at the Lemieux-DeGayner Funeral Home. Services have been tentatively set for Friday morning at St. John's Church.

Dives Nine Stories Into Shallow Pool

NEW YORK (AP)—The 36-year-old wife of an airline executive put on a bathing suit early today and dived nine stories from the roof of her apartment house into a swimming pool with four feet of water, police said.

The woman, Mrs. Laura Mae Creighton, blonde mother of three, was taken to Coney Island Hospital in critical condition. Her action was unexplained.

Her husband, Thomas Creighton, treasurer of Eastern Air Lines, and their three children were in the ground-floor apartment at the time.

Five Men Die In Navy Plane Crash

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, (AP)—Five Navy men died today in the takeoff crash of a B-6D Douglas Liftmaster of Naval Air Transport Squadron 6 assigned to Westover Air Force Base.

There were no survivors, officials said.

Cause of the crash was not known immediately. Names of those aboard were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Mrs. Thurman Doyle Of Menominee Dies

MENOMINEE — Mrs. Thurman B. Doyle, 51, of 729—7th St., died yesterday after an illness of two weeks.

The former Marcella Hinker was born Jan. 11, 1902, in Marinette and had spent all of her life in the Twin Cities except for a few years after her marriage when the Doyleys lived in Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

She married Thurman Doyle Aug. 18, 1926, in St. Ann's Church and was a member of St. John's Church and its Women's Auxiliary.

A 1919 graduate of Menominee High School, she had been secretary at the Prescott Company of office and was postmaster of Menominee for four years, the first and only woman to hold Menominee's chief political patronage post.

Casualty Toll By Earthquakes Heavy In Greek Islands

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Strong earthquakes continued to shake Greece's Ionian Sea islands for the fourth successive day today and the toll of casualties and damage mounted steadily.

Official reports Tuesday night placed the quake toll then at 150 dead but survivors predicted it would top 400.

As the Greek government rushed U. S. Air Force units across the Mediterranean in Tripoli readied helicopters to drop food and medical supplies on isolated villages in the stricken islands.

Many Still Buried

The official count of dead and injured lagged far behind unofficial tallies. Many victims were still buried under masses of rubble.

Greek Army engineers were rushed to the ravaged island of Kefallinia to help in the rescue work. The landing ship Alfeo reached the island, one of the hardest hit, Tuesday night with medical personnel and emergency supplies.

The quakes knocked out most communications with the islands but witnesses reaching the mainland said the town of Samis, on Kefallinia, had been completely wiped out.

Huge Boulders

The witnesses told of house-sized boulders crushing buildings in the town of 15,000 as though they had been matchboxes.

All buildings in the port of Ithaca, on nearby Ithaca Island, were reported destroyed. The island was legendary home of the Homeric Greek hero Ulysses. The port has a population of 8,400.

The main port of the island of Zakynthos, a town of 11,315 persons, was reported 75 per cent destroyed.

Fears were expressed for the fate of other communities in the back country of the rocky islands.

Upper Michigan Briefs

MENOMINEE—Twin City Amvets Post will sponsor a VJ-day parade Thursday evening at 7 p. m., starting in Menominee and ending in Marinette.

ST. IGNACE — Carl Luepnitz, who took first place in the dairy judging 4-H contest at Chatham this past month, will represent the Upper Peninsula as a member of its dairy judging team at the state 4-H show which will be held in Lansing on Sept. 4 and 5.

HANCOCK — The Chippewa Beagle club's annual AKC licensed field trial will be held near Calumet on the weekend of August 22. The highway will be marked, starting at the Calumet cemetery. This trial, as all sponsored by the Chippewa club, will be judged under the point system.

MENOMINEE — Menominee will join with Marinette in a promotion campaign to bring the 1954 Great Lakes Logging Congress Convention to Menominee, the board of directors of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce has decided. The board approved appropriation of $150 to help pay expenses of marching units, etc., to Rhinelander next month for this year's convention parade as part of the drive to bring the convention to the Twin Cities. The Marinette Chamber of Commerce has taken similar action.

MARQUETTE — It was practically a family reunion at St. Mary's Hospital for three Marquette families Monday. And the results were "all boys."

In chronological order, the hospital registered the following births: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Becklund, a son, Larry Paul, at 3:51 a. m.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beauchamp, a son, Keith Paul, at 10:12 a. m.; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Beauchamp, a son, Michael Gene, at 8:37 p. m.

Mrs. Becklund and Paul and Leon Beauchamp are cousins.

Stocks Hold Fairly Steady, Majority Of Changes Minor

NEW YORK (AP)—Although a few soft spots appeared in the list, the stock market held fairly steady today.

Neither gains nor losses extended more than a point. The great bulk of changes were quite minor.

Trading interest was slight and the pace was well under a million-share total for the day. Tuesday's market involved 940,000 shares.

Railroads were off a shade along with chemicals. A few motors and aircrafts were lower. Otherwise the list held steady or slightly mixed in significant areas.

Lower were Southern Railway, Du Pont, American Tobacco and Chrysler.

Higher were Montgomery Ward, American Can, Chesapeake, Ohio, United Air Lines, and Western Union.

U. S. government bonds in the over the counter market were unchanged to lower.

No Politics In State Conservation, Says Williams At Ionia

Williams said he made the appointment "above political considerations" and that he will always refuse to inject partisanship into the commission.

Williams said because of the Senate's actions "the morale of the Conservation Department has been seriously impaired."

He added that "the task of finding another qualified man is hampered by the treatment accorded Ben East, who did not seek the job but who wanted to be of service to the people."

"The fight will not be abandoned," Williams said.

"Another conservation commissioner will be appointed. He will not be chosen because of his politics, but entirely on the basis of merit."

Hot Pacific Puzzles Scientists

LA JOLLA, Calif. — Ocean scientists don't expect any quick answer to a new puzzle: What makes the Pacific's bottom so hot?

Nor do they look for any early explanation to another mystery: Why is the sea's floor so thin?

Dr. Roger Revelle, director of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography, thinks when the answers are given they may show a relationship.

He and other scientists also believe that they may also lead to revision of some of the theories about the composition of the earth's interior.

Temperature measurements by Revelle and Arthur E. Maxwell during a recent expedition into the South Pacific confirmed that the heat flow from the deep bottom was about the same as from continental land areas.

This confirmed measurements by Maxwell during a north Pacific expedition in 1950. The discovery then was so surprising that it was questioned by some scientists.

Heat radiated from continental surfaces is largely due to disintegration of uranium and other radio-active material in the granite crust. But under the deep sea there is no granite and, so, due to disintegration.

Revelle suggested the bottom heat may be a welling up from the earth's core and that at some periods it may have become so intense as to melt part of the ocean floor.

This, he added, might account for the apparent disappearance of bottom sediments covering a period of 29 hundred million years.

He estimated that existing sediments, averaging 600 feet over the Pacific basin, represent deposits of material eroded from continents, volcanic and atmospheric dust and remains of sea plants and creatures over a period of only 100 million years.

The calculation is based on the scientific concept that the earth and its oceans have existed for three billion years.

Always, at the bottom, there is a steady rain of the material that forms the sediments but in a thousand years, by estimates of its present rate of deposition, only one-third of an inch would be added.

Depths of the sediments and rocks beneath them were measured through sounds of submarine explosions. The speed with which sediments and rocks transmitted the sound revealed their density.

Two ships, one setting off the explosions and the other listening with hydrophones 40 or 50 miles away over the horizon, took part in this seismic survey under direction of Dr. Russel W. Raitt.

The survey disclosed that the earth's crust beneath the sea, including the deposits and very dense rock, was about four miles thick—remarkably thin compared to the crust of approximately five times that thickness under the continents.

The crust ends under both oceans and continents at what is known as the Mohorovicic discontinuity. Beneath that is still denser rock down to the earth's core.

On the Scripps expeditions special devices also were used to measure heat flow from the bottom.

Emotion Guide To Taking Worth While Pictures

People will tell you to "keep your eyes open" for snapshot subjects. Keep your heart open, too, for it is your emotions that guide you to the really worth-while pictures.

In the nursery, watch for gestures, expressions, the halo of sunshine in the baby's hair, the new interests and actions that tell of growth—and that evoke a response in you.

Watch your boy or girl for actions and mannerisms—at play, at study—that tell of growth and development.

Watch for the frowning concentration over a book, the craftsman's pleasure as an aircraft model takes form, the gestures as a new dress is modeled.

Each action that brings you pride—each family activity that awakens interest, even if its a routine everyday chore—can yield a picture.

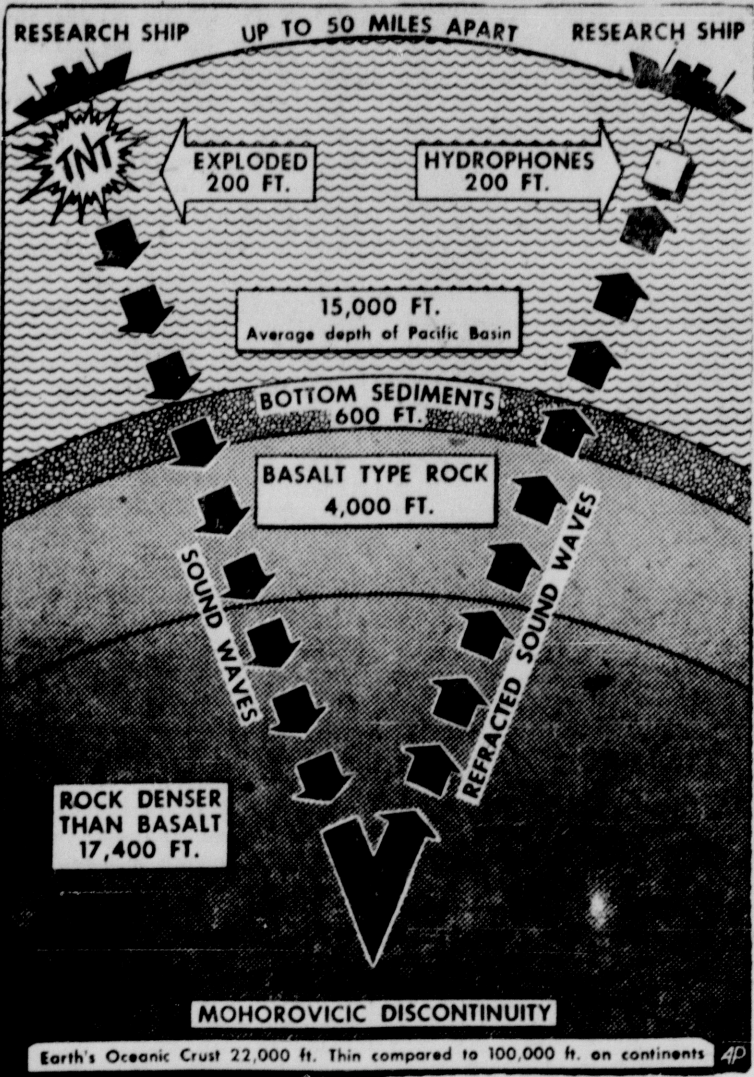

They're all around you—thousands of pictures. Many are fleeting—to capture them you must guess ahead, and keep your camera close at hand, ready for action.

And above all, learn to trust those small, sudden emotional responses of yours. They are your "picture signals"—they tell you when a memorable picture opportunity is at hand.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 30 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 million of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Cambodia Granted More Independence

PNOM PENH, Cambodia — France has bowed to the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Cambodia and agreed to give her immediate control of her own army, police, and judicial system, Cambodian Premier Pen Nouth said today.

Pen Nouth indicated the French proposals were acceptable to the kingdom, whose King recently fled temporarily to Thailand to dramatize his little country's desire for freedom.

Pen Nouth said he would soon call a conference of Cambodian officials to decide whether he should go to Paris to negotiate for Cambodian independence over external affairs.

HEADQUARTERS FOR SCHOOL SUPPLIES AND CANNING SUPPLIES

Liberals Again Win In Canada

TORONTO (P)—Canadians still swear by Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and will have none—or very little—of his detractors. They made that clear in the national elections with a big tide of votes rolling the Liberal party to an unprecedented fifth term.

The vote Monday returned the Liberals to power with a House of Commons majority just short of the record margin they ran up in the 1949 landslide.

There were 265 Commons seats at stake. The Liberals needed 133 to maintain a majority able to back a government. They won 171.

The Progressive Conservative (Tory) party won 50. The socialist (CCF) Commonwealth Cooperative Federation was in third place with 23 and the Social Crediters next with 15. The remaining 6 were scattered.

In 1949 the Liberals won 193 seats.

St. Laurent, 71, hailed the result as "a heartening expression of confidence."

The Liberals have been in power since 1935, first under W. L. Mackenzie King and since 1948 under St. Laurent.

The conservatives now have failed to win a Canadian election since 1930. They tried Monday under the same leader who lost in 1949—George Drew, former premier of Ontario.

Drew retained his own Commons seat, however, by winning in his district.

The Communists' 100 candidates lost everywhere.

A Baby Is Smartest Teacher In The World

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—A baby is the greatest teacher in the world. He starts where the big-domed professors and philosophers leave off. Socrates, one of the wisest men in history, used to get his students to think about life by asking them questions.

A baby has Socrates beat all hollow. It simply puts its arms around you and you have the answer to life. And there are no questions or doubts left.

Even the Bible can't teach as well as a baby. The Bible says you find your life by losing it and that it is more blessed to give than to receive. These are great words, but they are still only words to many people.

Autocrat of Cradle

A baby doesn't say such things to you. But the blind trust one of these squirming bundles of helplessness places in you teaches you the Biblical truths more surely than would a thousand sermons.

The hand that rocks the cradle doesn't rule the world. It is run by the soft little tyrant in the bassinet, the autocrat in the cradle. My wife and I, after nearly 16 years of childless marriage, recently were given for a time the care and feeding of a 5-week-old infant lady.

She is variously known as "Madam X," "Little Jughead," "The Princess," and "The Fountain."

A Thing of Beauty
I must say that at first sight she looked like a 100-year-old

102 Gals Love To Be Lonesome

By ARTHUR W. PRIAULX

PORTLAND, Ore. — (NEA) — Did you ever see a good-looking girl who loved to be lonesome? They have 'em out here in Oregon and Washington — the lonesome cult, with 102 members, and their ranks are growing. They get paid for being lonesome, from $201 a month up, and they love it.

They're called cloud girls, or forest fire lookouts. They live alone all summer, from May to October, deep in the timbered wilderness, as much as 50 miles from any living soul. Their home is a glassed-in, penthouse tower, perched on a mountain top.

For weeks on end, they see no living soul. Their only contact with civilization is a radiotelephone, and the occasional fire warden who brings in fresh supplies.

Curly-haired Anna Lou Wilkins, of Castle Rock, Wash., now manning her isolated eagle's nest atop Wolf Point in Cowlitz County, is a new member of the I-want-to-be-alone cult. She's the pride of her fire-fighting male cohorts who man the stand-by camp miles away in the forest.

"I never gave it a thought," said lively Anna, when asked if she ever gets lonesome. "There's so much to do, and it's dark before I know it, even though I'm on duty as soon as the sun comes up."

The cloud girls are more reliable than men, says Colonel George Spaur, Oregon's state forester. "They're more dependable and more satisfied with doing their own cooking, house-keeping and the tiresome work of scanning their 50 square miles of forest wilderness for signs of forest fires."

"When coyotes howl outside your penthouse door," says Mary Bea Hall, a University of Oregon graduate, "just play a cornet solo for the little brother of the wolf." For three summers at Laurel Mountain lookout, Mary Bea guarded 256 square miles of unbroken timber.

MARY BEA HALL: When coyotes howl, play the cornet.

"It's the dream of every girl, I guess," said this long-limbed, outdoor girl, "to live in a penthouse." She got her dream-penthouse was a 14-foot-square all-glass room, perched on a foot still atop a 3000-foot mountain.

The cloud girls must be expert fire watchers, to detect the first danger signal of thin blue smoke. They take wind velocity readings twice daily, report moisture and temperature, keep a daily radiotelephone log. They must carry their own wood and water.

Mary Jane Johanson dropped a quarter-mile down a steep hillside one day for drinking water, but came back empty-handed rather than contest water rights with a sizable black bear. She got her water later in the day.

Forty-five girls, mostly college students, staff over a third of Oregon's 134 lookouts on state and private lands. In Washington another 37 lonesome-by-choice girls do lookout duty. Oregon has doubled the number of girl sky queens in five years. Forest service lookouts use 30 more in the two states.

"Women are able to put up with the sedentary life inherent in lookout duty better than men," reports Bernie Orell, Washington state forester.

A mad-man killer is loose in the remote Crater Lake district of Southern Oregon, but an 18-year-old girl lookout maintains her solitary forest scanning, unruffled. She's a crack shot with a pistol and figures she can handle any man.

A Linfield College music major had her piano brought up to her 3500-foot sky perch this summer and when not busy gets in many hours of practice. "Now I don't bother the neighbors," she chuckles.

Mary Bea Hall filled in many a warm summer afternoon making bows and arrows. She's an excellent marksman with either rifle or bow and arrow. One of her pastimes is shooting squirrels, which abound around her lookout. She skins them, tans their hides, then makes gloves and hats.

When rainy weather comes and lookouts are closed, the girls beg to stay on just a few more days. It's a life that gets into your blood, they tell you. It's a life that tests a person's ability to be self-sufficient, to be happy alone.

WIDE-AWAKE YOUNGSTER — A bit apprehensive is this coyote pup, chased and finally cornered by the conservation department's photographer near Higgins Lake recently. The wily coyote, a gray to reddish-gray, medium-sized dog, is found throughout western North America. Wary and wily, the coyote has been able to keep his hold in Michigan's wilds despite the fact that the price on his scalp has encouraged large-scale hunting and trapping for many years.

This demonstration showed me the way to a better deal!

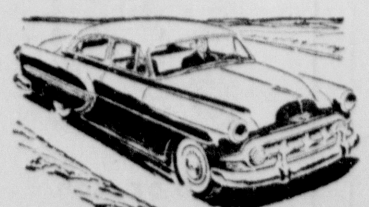

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until I found out all Chevrolet offered — and how much I could save!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response — right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrill-King" engine.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

Mrs. Elmer Raab, left on Monday morning, accompanied by her daughter, Mazine, who was home for two days, for the lower peninsula, where Mrs. Raab will visit with her relatives, and Maxine will resume her position, in Hart. Mrs. Raab plans to be gone a week or ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond LaBuhn have returned to their home in Detroit, following a week's vacation at their cabin, east of Trenary.

William and Garry Lacombe, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Lacombe, are spending this week in Munising with their relatives.

Bill Williams is at home now, having spent a few days in the lower peninsula, with his brother, and also with his daughter, Mrs. Claude English.

Glennis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Lacombe of Munising, is spending a vacation here at the William Lacombe residence and also with her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Gregg.

Bob Quarfoot who has been employed in Chicago is at home now, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Quarfoot.

Mrs. J. H. Zeiters of Oconomowoc, Wis., who spent the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Murphy Little, celebrated her 89th birthday on August 6, at the Little residence, with friends and acquaintances dropping in to wish Mrs. Zeiters many returns. A party luncheon was served to the guests and a decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Nestor Orava, granddaughter of Mrs. Zeiters, served as a centerpiece. Mrs. Zeiters received presents as mementoes of the occasion.

Iran Reds Seek Shah's Ouster

TEHRAN, Iran (P)—Iran's Communists were expected today to push harder than ever for the ouster of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi as the payoff for their strong support in plebiscite votes approving government plans to dissolve Parliament.

The nation's provincial areas gave Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a whopping 1,441,156 to 694 vote Monday approving his demand for the ending of the Majlis (lower house of Parliament). Last week, Tehran and its suburbs okayed the proposal 166,607 to 116.

The Communists voted in full strength. Estimates credited them with at least 70,000 of the Premier's votes in Tehran.

But the Communist campaign against the Shah and his court appeared certain to weaken the Reds' ties with Mossadegh. The Premier has shown no desire to go that far against the ruler, insisting only that he "must reign, not rule," and that the government must be supreme.

The Reds have demanded a new constituent assembly to revamp Iran's constitution. In addition to ousting the Shah, they want to break up his court, which they claim is "the principal entrenchment for imperialism."

Nahma

NAHMA — Harold Anderson left on Saturday for Milwaukee, Wis., to join the other members of his family who are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Peterson.

Delor Van Calligan, of Milwaukee, visited here last week with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeRosier.

Mrs. Antone Deloria and son Calvin are visiting in Engadine this week.

Kenneth Sheedlo and Miss Dorothy Shoab of Detroit, arrived Saturday to spend a few days at the Ed Sheedlo home.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldo Povolo and Mr. and Mrs. Albino Povolo and their families of Milwaukee, visited at the Joe Seick home during the weekend.

Glandular Cancer Victim, 36, Dies

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—George T. Montgomery, 36, who offered himself to the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation when he was told he had glandular cancer, died Sunday.

A cancer specialist said he "even refused sedatives the last few days so that we might better test his reaction to treatment."

Montgomery's expectant wife asked her physician to induce labor a week early so her husband would know his child was born. Told of the birth of a healthy son, he said through the pain, "That's fine."

Doctors said he improved slightly, then lapsed into a coma a few days later and died.

Veronica Rodman Is The Bride Of Marvin Ropele

Miss Veronica Jayne Rodman of Thiensville, Wis., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Rodman of Hermansville, and Marvin H. Ropele of Norway repeated their marriage vows in a ceremony Saturday, Aug. 8, at 9:30 a. m., at St. Mary's Church in Hermansville. Father Frederick Hoffman was celebrant of the nuptial high mass.

The wedding dinner was served at the Chicken Shack in Escanaba and the evening reception for 200 guests was held at the Croatian H. H.

Chantilly lace and nylon tulle formed the chapel length bridal gown designed with a scalloped illusion yoke. Lace detailed the bodice and skirt and the long sleeves tapered to points at the wrist. Seed pearls trimmed the lace Juliet cap which secured the bride's fingertip veil. She carried yellow sweetheart roses and stephanotis on her prayer book.

Bridal Attendants

Miss Barbara J. Rodman of Milwaukee, maid of honor, wore powder blue net over blue taffeta. The full skirted frock was designed with a shirred snug bodice. A matching jacket and headband of net completed the ensemble. She carried a basket of yellow pom-poms. Miss Dorothy A. Rodman of Minneapolis and Mrs. James Erspamer of Marquette, bridesmaids, wore identical costumes of yellow and carried baskets of blue pom-poms.

James Erspamer was best man for Mr. Ropele who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ropele of Norway. Ushers were Stanley Moln of Norway and Frank J. Rodman.

Mrs. Rodman was attired in a print with white background and a navy blue hat for her daughter's wedding. Yellow sweetheart roses formed her corsage. The bridegroom's mother was in navy blue lace. A corsage of pink and white carnations complemented her pink hat.

Home In Norway

Mrs. L. T. Doran, organist, accompanied St. Mary's choir in the music of the wedding mass. The offertory hymn, Rosewig's "Aye Maria," was sung by Mrs. Lucile Rodman of Escanaba, sister-in-law of the bride. Yellow and white gladioli decorated the church altars and were used in the Rodman home for the breakfast immediately following the ceremony.

The newlyweds will live in Norway when they return from a honeymoon in Upper Michigan and Wisconsin. For traveling the bride selected a yellow suit with green accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses.

The bride is a graduate of Hermansville High School and attended Badger Business School at Green Bay, Mr. Ropele, who is an instructor at the Powers-Spalding School, is a Norway High School graduate and received his degree from Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette.

Irene Kwak And Robert Broeders Repeat Vows

Marriage vows were spoken by Miss Irene Evangeline Kwak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kwak of Perronville, Mich., and Robert Ernest Broeders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Broeders of St. of 1015 Delta Ave., Gladstone, Saturday, Aug. 8 at 10 a. m.

Rev. Conrad Suda performed the double ring ceremony at St. Michael's Church at Perronville. The godmother of the bride, Mrs. John Pietrowski, and the St. Michael's Choir sang the traditional wedding music.

Miss Betty Holochwost, Ringwood, Ill., maid of honor, was attired in a pink net over taffeta gown with a matching cap. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and pink and white sweetpeas.

The two bridesmaids wore gowns styled similar to the maid of honor. Mrs. Ted Broeders of Escanaba wore a blue net over taffeta gown with a matching cap, and she carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and pink and white sweetpeas. A yellow net over taffeta gown was worn by the other bridesmaid, Miss Pat Tousignant of LaBranche. She also wore a matching cap and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and yellow and white sweetpeas.

Imported Chantilly Lace

A gown of French imported Chantilly lace was worn by the bride. The gown was styled with a fitted bodice, tapered sleeves, a Queen Anne's collar seeded with sequins and a full satin skirt trimmed in lace and holding a full length train. Her net veil was held by a Queen Elizabeth crown of hearts seeded with pearls. She wore a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Joseph Kwak, wore a gray and white striped dress with matching accessories, while Mrs. Gerard Broeders also attended her son's wedding in a gray and white striped dress, with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink and white carnations.

Ted Broeders of Escanaba served as best man for the wedding, and Jim Cousineau of Hardwood, Mich., acted as groomsmen.

Delayed Honeymoon

A breakfast for 50 people was served at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony and a dinner was served to 100 guests at 4 p. m. The tables were clothed in white, and the bridal table was centered by the wedding cake decorated in white with yellow roses, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The newlyweds, who will make their home in Escanaba, have delayed their honeymoon trip until

A son, whose name is Richard Carl, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Terrian, 929 Washington Ave., Aug. 11 at St. Francis Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 6 ounces.

Vows Spoken By Lily Ann Grenier, Robert G. Sauve

St. Anne's Chapel, bouquets of pastel tinted gladioli decorating the altars, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Lily Ann Grenier, daughter of Mrs. Adeline Grenier, 222 S. 8th St., and Robert G. Sauve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli J. Sauve, Escanaba Rte. 1.

The Rev. Arnold Thompson was celebrant of the 10 a. m. nuptial high mass Aug. 8. St. Anne's Senior Choir sang the music of the mass, accompanied by Miss Jean LaBranche, organist. Miss Doris Costley sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" as the couple left the sanctuary at the close of the mass.

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace over candlelight satin was designed with a Queen Ann collar, long, tapering sleeves, and a cathedral train. Her fingertip blusher veil was secured by a coronation crown of seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of feathered carnations and roses.

Honor Attendant in Blue
Miss Kay Dunford, maid of honor, wore a ball length frock of Castle blue satin with a matching open crown sweetheart hat and cape. She carried carnations and roses.

Roderick McGillis was best man. Cousins of the bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Grenier, ushered. They were Francis and Lawrence Grenier.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Grenier chose a navy blue nylon ensemble with white accessories. Mrs. Sauve was attired in an aqua suit with blue accessories. Their corsages were pink rubrum lilies.

The wedding breakfast for 30 guests and the afternoon reception for 200 guests were held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Miss Helen Engdahl served the four-tiered wedding cake.

Wedding Guests

Boys' Car Runs After 49 Years

THEN AND NOW—Judge and executive as they are now (below) and in 1904 with the "buckboard" they built as teen-age boys. It still runs. (AP Newfeatures)

ELIZABETH, N. J.—Two dignified, gray-haired men recently trundled a strange looking nine-foot wheeled device out of the cellar of a house on Prince Street. It was a home-made automobile, powered by a primitive one cylinder engine, which they had built in 1904 when they were boyhood chums here.

One of the men was Woodruff W. Halsey, sales manager of a battery firm. The other was Federal Judge Edward J. Dimmock, of the New York District Court, who recently presided at the trial of the second string Communists.

Dimmock and Halsey got the idea of resurrecting the ancient "buckboard," as it was licensed in 1904 by New Jersey's department of State, while reminiscing last fall about the pleasures of their boyhood.

The car, sawed in half, still was in the cellar of Halsey's home.

Old Motor Runs
Working on weekends, the judge and the executive restored the buckboard to its oldtime glory. They were amazed to find that the original motor still worked.

The car has bicycle type wheels at each end, connected by a plank. The motor is set up at the rear and there is a small hood at the front with a steering wheel. The width is about two feet.

It is a little difficult at first glance to tell which end is which. Especially since the operators sit back to back on the plank, one steering and the other fiddling with the motor.

They also must sit cross legged, since the plank is only a foot from the ground and there is no provision for leg room.

Natives Amazed
After the buckboard was refurbished and had a new coat of shiny black paint, Dimmock and Halsey pushed it to a quarter-mile track, for a try out. Passersby gaped and scratched their heads as the two men rolled the 250-pound contraption through the streets.

The motor was started with a scratchy roar and it moved about a sixteenth of a mile down the track before a cloud of blue smoke emerged from the motor and it conked out.

Some delicate adjustments of the carburetor were made and the trial run continued.

"Our pride will be hurt if it doesn't go around the track once without stopping," said Halsey to the sole onlooker, a newspaper reporter.

Repairs Needed
Finally with a running push, Judge Dimmock almost completed a lap. Then the proud owners decided more repairs were needed on the carburetor, which wasn't feeding enough gas from the three quart tank on the rear.

The buckboard qualifies as one of the oldest operating motor vehicles in the state of New Jersey.

The boys first got auto fever in 1903 when they were in their early teens. They built their "model A" then, which was powered by a sail. It was a far cry from Henry Ford's model of the same name in later years.

The sail frightened horses and police banned it.

The youthful inventors then came up with "model B" equipped with a 3/4 horsepower engine and a unique direct drive. It could only be stopped by turning off the gas and "hoping for the best."

Did 35 MPR
"Model C," the present surviving vehicle, came next. It is chain driven and according to Halsey was capable of 35 miles an hour in its heyday.

A fourth car — "model D" of course — was built a year later and lasted four years. It unfortunately met head-on with a huge Newfoundland dog one day and was never the same.

In the renovation, the men had tires custom made for the buckboard. Wood to restore the chassis was shipped down from Hartwood, N. Y., where Judge Dimmock has a home.

Under the tiny hood in front is a battery, about one quarter the size of the modern batteries Halsey now sells.

No Brakes
In the center of the steering wheel is a metal handle to regulate speed. The car has no lights

Garden

GARDEN—Mr. and Mrs. James Dotsch and daughter Mary Jane of Alpena, are visiting relatives and friends in Garden.

Miss Judy Wakeman of Marquette is visiting at the home of the Ulysses Maynards.

Ulysses Maynard is in Jackson, where he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pelletier are vacationing in the eastern states.

Miss Jeanine Thibault and Miss Joyce Pelletier have returned to Garden after spending the past month and a half in Florida visiting with the Gerard Thibault's, former Garden residents.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Winter and daughters Charlene and Lynn are vacationing in California. Charlene will remain in California to work.

Mrs. Leonard Jacques is operating the Winter Confectionery store during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Winter and daughters Corrine and Harriet of Mankato, Minn., have arrived in Garden to spend several weeks at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Deloria and Mrs. Katherine Gillespie of Norton, Kan., spent the past week visiting relatives and friends in Garden.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farley and Mr. and Mrs. Cal Richards and family motored to Au Train Sunday to visit with the families of Norval and Myron Farley.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Richards have purchased the house and property of Mrs. Clara Potvin, located next to the new school.

Miss Rosemary Zajac of Detroit is spending several weeks at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Bernier.

Mr. and Mrs. Ozzie Hazen and Carol and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lester Sr., motored to St. Ignace Sunday.

Gary Guertin returned to Garden from Detroit on Sunday morning.

The Garden Boy Scout troops are expected to meet at 9:30 Thursday morning at the Garden school. Scout executive, Andy Houston will accompany the boys on a hike. Tenderfoot Scouts are expected to bring meat and vegetables to cook out in the open.

or brakes. An operating bar on top of the hood takes the place of a gear shift and a leather belt serves as a clutch.

There is one thing under the hood, which Judge Dimmock calls "the most important piece of equipment we have."

It is a fire extinguisher.

DAMP STROLL—It was warm, so Alex Wozniak, of London, England, decided to put on his walking "shoes" and take a stroll down the Thames. His shoes in this case are skis, each of which is, in effect, a miniature boat with a keel. Wozniak pushes himself through the water with two ski poles which have cork floats at the end. He plans to "walk" the English Channel in the future.

Wine makers in Italy are concerned about the growing popularity of American soft-drinks in that country.

Vinegar Will Slow Hardening Of Filler

Repair all cracks in a plastered wall before repainting.

Brush out all of the loose plaster from the cracks with a stiff brush or whisk broom. If the edges are crumbly, trim them with a sharp tool.

To anchor the patch, dovetail the crack. In other words, have the width of the crack at the opening smaller than the inner part.

Mix plaster of Paris with cold water to a thick paste, adding a few drops of vinegar to prevent too rapid hardening. Press this mixture into the cracks with a knife. Level off to a smooth surface.

The plaster surrounding the cracks should be well moistened with water before the filler is applied. When the patch is dry, sand any roughness that remains, dust and prime before applying the new color coating.

The Constitution of the United States, together with foreign treaties and acts of Congress made under its authority, constitutes the "supreme law of the land."

City Officials Inspect Plants

A group of Gladstone city officials are returning tonight from a trip to Milwaukee and several outlying cities and towns relevant to the electric generating plant which this city is planning to build.

At Milwaukee the group Tuesday visited the Allis-Chalmers plant to see and learn of the construction of steam turbine generators, the type recommended for the local plant, and today they were scheduled to visit some plants and cities nearby which were operating electric generating plants powered by steam turbines.

In the group making the trip were Mayor Michael LaPine, Commissioners Gordon Kelley, Adam Sinclair and Archie Cowen and Superintendent of the Electric Utility Wilfred LaFond.

Rotarians View Colored Slides Of Trip To West

Roy Nettin, Chicago, of the firm of Nelson and Nettin, heating and electrical consulting engineers, entertained the Gladstone Rotary club Monday noon with a showing of colored pictures taken during several trips to the West.

Although strictly an amateur, Nettin's photography would have been hard to improve on and he described the trip and various scenes in interesting and able fashion.

Einar C. Olson was program chairman.

John Zuehl of Milwaukee and Charles C. Wilson, Detroit, were guests at the meeting.

Rapid River Lions To Be Entertained At Buchman Cottage

Expect Big Attendance At VFW Water Festival

An attendance of 5,000 people at the VFW Water Festival Sunday was predicted yesterday by Everett Anderson, general chairman of the event.

Attendance last year was 4,300, Anderson said. "Every year it's got bigger and better received," he declared.

This is the Water Festival's third year. Cost of the festivals each successive year tell the dramatic story of its growth. The first year, it cost $800, Anderson said, and the second year $1,600. This year, with Tommy Bartlett's Florida Ski Thrill Show an attraction, the festival will cost $2,500 to put on.

Plans are pretty well complete, Anderson said Tuesday. A committee meeting was scheduled for Tuesday night to handle last-minute arrangements.

Reserved Seats

A special, reserved-seat section has been erected at the water's edge at Arrowhead Inn Site, Indian Lake, for the Tommy Bartlett show, which will perform at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 6:30 in the evening. There will be 500 seats for each performance.

General admission to the Water Festival will be 50 cents. Anyone wanting a reserved seat must pay 75 cents more, bringing the total paid to $1.25. Anderson emphasized this $1.25 price includes general admission.

Those without reserved seat tickets will have to hunt for a place on the grass, or anywhere they can find, from which to watch the Tommy Bartlett show, Anderson said.

Festival Gates

Reserved seat admissions may be bought from Richard Nigh, ticket chairman, at Evergreen Shores Resort, Indian Lake, telephone 934-F21; from Don MacLean at the Ford Garage, telephone 320; or from Everett Anderson, at the insurance agency in the State Bank, telephone 720.

Gates to the festival will be on top of the bridge; at the corner of Agner Dehlin's farm; and at the west entrance to the Arrowhead Inn grounds.

No cars will be allowed on the grounds except those parking in a reserved parking place, a mowed field immediately north of the Arrowhead Inn.

Festival signs will be erected to guide traffic, Anderson said. Michigan State Police will be on duty to control traffic.

4-H Has Dairy Entries In Fair

Schoolcraft County 4-H members will bring 13 dairy animals and two beef animals to the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Clayton L. Reid, county agricultural agent, has reported. The fair will be held in Escanaba August 18-23.

Dairy animals are: two years and under, and include seven Holsteins, five Brown Swisses, and one Guernsey, Reid said. There are four two-year-olds, four yearlings, and five calves.

Entering Holstein animals are Conrad Letson, Gulliver; Beth Henriksen and Geraldine Gideon of Hiawatha Township; James Fox and Duane Fox of Cooks; and Carol Letson of Gulliver.

Herbert, Robert, Hubert and James Weinert, all of Hiawatha Township, are entering Brown Swiss animals. Billy Buu of Gulliver is also entering a Brown Swiss, Reid said, and Paul Hill of Cooks is entering a Guernsey calf.

Two King brothers of Gulliver will each enter a beef animal, Reid said. Both animals are Herefords, one a steer, the other a heifer.

Schoolcraft County 4-H'ers will also be represented at the fair by handicraft projects, canned goods and baked goods, clothing projects, garden and flower exhibits, and poultry and rabbits, Reid said. 4-H Day at the fair is Thursday, August 20, Reid said.

Fishing Contest For Kids Gets Going

Boys and girls participating in a fishing contest sponsored by Better Fishing Inc., of Chicago may 16 years old or under, not six years old or under as previously stated in the Daily Press.

Local sponsor is the Manistique Rifle and Pistol Club.

Hughie Jenerou, 11, of Manistique Rte. 1, caught the first fish entered in the contest, an 11 lb. 13 oz., Northern pike, Art Hough, president of the rifle and pistol club, said Tuesday. Hughie caught his pike Monday afternoon about 4 in the mouth of the Sturgeon Hole Slew, up the Manistique River, it was learned.

Each contestant should bring his fish to the locker plant to be weighed, Hough said. The contestant will get a weight slip and he should bring that to Hough at the Barnes Hotel.

The contest opened Sunday and entries will be accepted until 6 p. m., August 22. Young anglers must be accompanied by an adult 18 or over, both on the stream or lake, and when they bring their fish to be weighed, Hough stated.

The Chicago organization will present valuable prizes to the local boy winner and girl winner, and in addition the rifle and pistol club is offering prizes to other contestants. Prizes will be on display in the Daily Press window, Oak St.

Man Fined Here On Bad Check Charge

Albert Welch of Grand Rapids, arraigned by Michigan State Police on a bad check charge, was fined $25 and assessed court costs of $5 and sentenced to 30 days in county jail Tuesday afternoon by Judge Victor P. Deemer in justice court.

Judge Deemer made the sentence with the understanding that if Welch does not pay the fine, he will be kept in jail 90 days instead of 30, the judge said.

The judge also ordered Welch to make restitution for the check, which was for $41.39.

Soccer Fan Now, Says Visitor To Manistique

Howard L. Ginaven, a Springfield, Ohio man who has been in Wolverhampton, England, six years as manager of a Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. plant, and who was a guest at the Manistique Rotary Club luncheon Monday, said he has lost his interest in baseball and has become a soccer fan.

"Now I'm more interested in the Wolverhampton soccer team than I am in the Cleveland Indians," he said, describing the change in that six years across the Atlantic has brought about.

Children Enjoy School

Ginaven, with his wife and four children, is vacationing for two weeks at Hughes Lake, near Steuben, doing some fishing and "a little of everything." He was introduced to the Rotarians as "Howard Ginaven, from Wolverhampton, England," and he got a big hand. He said he gets the same reception at Rotary luncheons in England when he is introduced as an American.

He likes and enjoys the English and respects their honor and integrity, he said. As for his four children, "they enjoy school," and he feels they are getting a good education.

English Hospitality

Ginaven spoke of English hospitality, saying "they just can't seem to do enough for an American." The condition of England is better now than it has been at any time in his six years there, he stated. He said he thinks the people are working hard and trying hard to make a comeback.

"The real honest-to-goodness British people like America and appreciate all we have done and are trying to do," Ginaven declared.

Commenting on the Coronation, he said it gave the English a spiritual impetus which will last a long time. It represented a throwing-off of austerity, he said.

Soon Ginaven and his family will return to England. Probably they will not get back to the United States for another three years, he said.

Lakeside PTA Board Discusses Program

Program of the Lakeside-Central PTA for the coming year was discussed Monday night during a meeting of the group's executive board in the home of its president, the Rev. Paul Sobel.

An evaluation of last year's program was made. Tentative topics for each meeting next year were suggested. Another meeting will take place early in September to make specific plans for the year.

Present were Mrs. Muriel Cookson, Miss Effie Carrington, Mrs. Glen Pawley, and Laurence Stewart.

Nadyne Reque Is Married To Iowan In Ceremony Here

Zion Lutheran Church Sunday was the setting for the wedding of Miss Nadyne Reque, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Reque, 631 Oak St., and William E. Reardon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reardon, of Farmersburg, Ia. The Rev. P. S. Reque, uncle of the bride, and the Rev. G. A. Herbert officiated at the 4 p. m. double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with daisies and candelabra. Mrs. Harry Ahlstrom, organist, played the procession and recessional and accompanied Miss Margaret Burgess as she sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was attired in a white embroidered organza gown styled with a fitted bodice and full floor length skirt with a short train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a coronation crown ornamented with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a pearl bracelet and earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. William Norman, the former Doris Schweickert, was maid of honor. She wore a yellow organza ballerina length gown styled similarly to that of the bride. She carried a bouquet of daisies. Miss Janet Baile, of Bagley, Wis., and Miss Sandra Reardon, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids, and Michele Hamann, niece of the groom, was flower girl. They wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor.

Canadian Honeymoon

Delos Hamann served as best man and John Reque, the bride's brother, and Duane Radloff, a cousin of the groom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Reque attended her daughter's wedding in a light toast

Ironwood appears to have a softball team capable of giving the best in the Upper Peninsula a strong test in coming tournament action. Scavetti's Bar recently lost its first game of the season after stringing together 21 straight victories. And up Iron River way they're all talking about a sensational pitcher, Lynn Chadwick, who chucks for Felix's Food Store. He turned in a no-hit, no-run performance last week.

Softball will hold the limelight in Escanaba sports for the remainder of the month. District tournament champions will be determined this week in Classes A, B and C. Upper Peninsula champions will be crowned at Marquette and then Escanaba becomes the center of the state picture when regional champions compete here for the state Class A title.

When Bert Carlson of the Cleveland Indian organization was here Monday, he said that scouts Nap Ross and Mike Mychko were impressed with several prospects in this area as a result of the second annual tryout camp in June. Cleveland plans to continue holding the camp here each year, and Carlson said that Ross is eager to find a prospect to sign next year.

Cleveland feels that the hiring of Art Petersen as part-time scout for the Escanaba area will be a boost for the tryout camps and the baseball program here. Ross and Mychko figure that a representative in Escanaba is necessary if the Cleveland scouts are to know the best prospects in the area.

The Escanaba Cubs of the Waubesa League were unable to play their final league game last Sunday against Carney. Some of the Carney players were involved in an auto accident and the team was unable to be here for the season's finale.

Charles Upset By Cuban Boxer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Nino Valdes, Cuban heavyweight boxing champion, is looking forward to a world title fight in this country and the cash that goes with it after scoring a stunning 10-round decision over former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles.

Valdes, a 1 to 6 underdog came from behind Tuesday night to outslug Charles and win a unanimous decision.

Charles, who before the fight was rated the No. 1 challenger for Rocky Marciano's crown, said Valdes never hurt him.

Charles, weighing the heaviest of his career at 191½, started out fast but after the third round Valdes took charge and never let up. Valdes weighed 209½.

Tempers boiled over at Memorial Field last night as Class A softball teams moved into second round district tournament play.

Several outbursts showed up action in the Paper Mill-Harnischfeger clash and came to a head when Ron Noel, Mill first baseman, and Joe Ricci, Harnie outfielder, were ejected from the game after a brief tangle near first base in the fourth inning.

The Harnies made up a first inning 1-0 deficit to cap a 7-1 verdict over Paper Mill with ace hurler John Pierpon going the route.

Merchants Suffer Loss

In the nightcap, the defending Class A championship Merchants were upset 3-1 by Maki's Service of Chatham, last year's district Class B champs. White Birch was eliminated from tournament competition via a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Dells city champions.

The Dells won behind five-hit pitching by Bob Corvieveau when Keith Morin, second baseman, drove home a 1-1 tie-breaking run in the last of the seventh inning with two men out. Wally Larson scored the deciding run.

Turner 3-1 Choice Over Ramon Fuentes

NEW YORK (AP)—Fast-punching Gil Turner of Philadelphia is a 3-1 choice to whip California's Ramon Fuentes tonight and keep in the running for a title crack with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

Turner and the 27-year-old Los Angeles ex-Marine meet in a 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden. The 8 p. m. CST, bout will be telecast by CBS.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Pitching—Carl Erskine, Brooklyn Dodgers, gave up just two singles in winning his 13th game 4-0 over New York.

Batting—Minnie Minoso, Chicago White Sox, hit a three run homer in the Sox' 6-2 victory over Cleveland.

Still Close Enough

The first division teams in both leagues could look at the calendar today and tell themselves, "We can still do it."

This is the second anniversary of the start of the dramatic stretch drive that carried the New York Giants to the 1951 National League pennant.

On Aug. 12 the Giants were 13 games behind Brooklyn, yet they caught the Dodgers on the final day of the season and went on to win a playoff.

Still Close Enough

The second, third and fourth place teams in both leagues go into today's contests less than 13 games out of the lead. In the National, Brooklyn is 7½ in front of Milwaukee with Philadelphia and St. Louis tied for third, 11½ games back. In the American, New York leads Chicago by 6 games with Cleveland 11 behind and Boston 12½.

The size of the leads changed in both leagues Tuesday night. The Yankees lost a full length as they bowed to Washington 2-1 and Chicago defeated Cleveland 6-2. In the National, Brooklyn whipped New York 4-0 and St. Louis edged Milwaukee 4-3.

The Boston Red Sox won twice at Philadelphia 7-6 and 7-5. Detroit and St. Louis split a pair. The Browns took the first 5-2, the Tigers the second 9-3.

Cubs Win 1-0

The Chicago Cubs squeezed past Cincinnati 1-0. Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 3-0 but lost 7-4 in a game that was finally finished after being left hanging since July 5

Davey Soon Ready For Ring Showing

LANSING (AP)—Lansing welterweight Chuck Davey today said he hopes to be able to line up a fight for next month or the month after.

Davey is back in Lansing after several months of rest at Escoda. During his vacation he had a couple of impacted wisdom teeth removed.

"I'm waiting for confirmation that my jaw has completely healed," Davey said, "and then we'll do something about signing for a fight."

One possibility is a meeting with Al Andrews of Saginaw, Carmen Flore and Art Aragon also are being considered, Davey said.

Reggie Myles Jr., a former Michigan State College varsity golfer, is the 1953 Michigan amateur links champion.

drive off the bat of Corvieveau. Sovey was on with a single and was sacrificed to third base.

White Birch tied it 1-1 in the fifth, Leo Lancour scoring on a single by Pete Hirn. Birch threatened in the top of the seventh with successive singles by King and Hirn but the Dells tightened up to shut off the rally.

The Dells picked up seven hits off Leo and Franny Lancour, all singles. Pete Hirn, White Birch right fielder, had a perfect night with three hits in three trips.

Paper Mill greeted Pierpon with two hits in the first inning for a single run. B. Noel led off with a bunt, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Bob LeHoullier singled him home for the lone run for the losers.

Pierpon Fans Eight

The Harnies were eight 2-1 in the second when Pierpon's double, his fourth straight tournament hit, scored Lowell LaPlant from third base, and Howard Rusha from second. Doubles by LaPlant and Rusha led to another run in the

Louise Suggs Sets New Earning Record

NEW YORK (AP)—Louise Suggs of Atlanta finished her year's work with an all-time record booty of $19,816.25, according to figures released today by the Ladies Professional Golf Association of America. The previous high was the $16,000 won by Mrs. Babe Zaharias in 1951.

The four wound up with the Tam O'Shanter tournament in Chicago and Miss Suggs won six of the 21 events on the program.

Patty Berg, the St. Andrews, Ill., redhead, was second with $18,623.87.

Frank Boucher New Coach For Rangers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Rangers, who finished in the National Hockey League cellar last season, today had a new coach and a couple of old pros in their lineup.

Frank Boucher, one of the original Rangers, took over as manager-coach when Bill Cook resigned, and the veteran Bentley brothers, Max and Doug, were brought into the fold.

Max was brought from Toronto and Doug was brought up from the Rangers' Saskatoon farm where he was player-coach.

Michigan State's modern defensive record in a single football game is the 11-minus total yards from rushing and passing permitted Pittsburgh in 1950.

fourth and Mark Olson cleaned the bases with an inside-the-park homer in the fifth. Only three runs counted, however, as LaPlant passed Scoops MacDonald on the baseline.

The Harnies added their final run in the sixth with Catcher Tod Butler scoring on Ding DeGrand's single. It was DeGrand's second hit in four trips.

The Merchants opened with a run in the first inning against Chatham when leadoff man Mickey Kuchenberg singled, moved to second on a sacrifice by Tom Dufour and moved to third and home on a wild peg to third by Chatham first baseman Leo Lammi.

That was all the scoring for the defending champions, although they reached Chatham hurler Cliff Johnson for four more hits in the game.

Chatham won in spite of only two hits off Ken Dufresne and Louie Kositzky who shared mound duty for the Merchants. Both were singles, and both were balls hit back to the mound too hot for the hurlers to handle.

Chatham went ahead 2-1 in the third inning without a hit. Jim Brisson walked and moved all the way home on two wild pitches and a passed ball. Jerry Sturvist also walked and sped home from third when Bill Kallio flied out to right field. Bill Kallio picked up Chatham's second hit in the sixth inning and registered the sixth Chatham run.

The tournament schedule slackens off tonight with only one Class C game slated at 6:30 at Dock Diamond.

Heavy firing resumes Thursday night in Class A at Memorial Field. The Merchants and Dells tangle in a last-ditch stand in the opener at 7. The loser will be eliminated from the tourney.

First Class B game of the tourney will follow at 8:15 between Munising Moosehead and Hyde. The nightcap will pit Bungalow against Paper Mill at 9:30. This loser will also fall by the wayside.

Playoff Positions Set In Tri County League

Playoff positions were decided by the flip of a coin in the Tri County baseball league last night. The flip was necessary to break a tie for third place between Foster City and Hermansville in the final standings after last week's closing games on the regular schedule.

Foster City landed the No. 3 position and will play at Powers,

No. 2 club, at 2:30 Sunday in the sudden-death playoff.

Hermansville drew the No. 4 spot and will play at Bark River Sunday at 2:30. The Barks copped the league crown with an impressive record of 13 wins against one defeat. The lone loss was suffered to Powers last Sunday in the season finale.

The flip for playoffs was held at Bartoszek's Bar in Perronville with league commissioner Roy Bagley in charge. Managers of the Hermansville and Foster City teams attended.

After the playoff opens Sunday, the two surviving teams will meet for the 1953 playoff championship on Sunday, Aug. 23. Site of the championship game will be determined later.

Association Leaders Keep Close Positions

(By The Associated Press)

Louisville and Toledo continued their virtual tie for the American Association lead by recording victories Tuesday night.

Louisville whipped Charleston 6-2, and Toledo beat St. Paul 2-1. Louisville has a slight percentage point edge on the Sox, .581 to .579. They are even in games won and lost.

The Indianapolis Indians beat Minneapolis 8-3 and Columbus got by Kansas City 7-5.

Kenosha Remains In Little League Race

CHICAGO (AP)—The Great Lakes sectional Little League baseball championship — fought to a stand-off Tuesday — was to be decided tonight in a playoff between Kenosha, Wis., and Joliet, Ill.

Tuesday's game ended in a seven-inning 3-3 tie when officials called it because of darkness.

The winner advances to the regional tourney at Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 14-18. The national tournament will be held at Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 25-28.

Sheriff Steps In On Little League Clash

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—The sheriff halted what was to have been a Little League regional baseball championship game Tuesday night between Mount Vernon, Ill., and Columbus, Neb.

Sheriff John Taylor served on the sponsors and umpires a court order directing them to show cause Sept. 12 why they should not be cited for contempt of court.

The order was issued by Circuit Judge Dimmitt Hoffman. The judge earlier had restrained Little League Baseball, Inc., of Williamsport, Pa., from barring the Santa Cruz team of Pine Lawn, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, from the tournament.

Declared Ineligible

Santa Cruz obtained the temporary restraining order after it was declared ineligible on the ground that it had recruited players from outside the territory fixed by its franchise.

Armed with the restrainer, Santa Cruz took on Mount Vernon Tuesday night and won 8-6. Earlier, Columbus had defeated Kankakee, Ill., 6-0.

Ordinarily, that would have put Santa Cruz against Columbus in the finals of the four-team regional tournament, in which one loss meant elimination.

Tourney Head Quits

But Little League Baseball, Inc., ordered tournament director Richard Sklar of Sedalia to conduct a championship game between Mount Vernon and Columbus, disregarding Santa Cruz — and the court order.

That left Sklar with the choice of defying either the court or his organization's front office.

Instead of doing either, he resigned.

That did not keep him from being named in the show-cause order, however, along with Little League Baseball, Inc.; Clyde Pifford, manager of the Columbus team; and Palmer Nichols, Donald Donath, Jake Kraus and John Thomas, umpires.

Nine Lettermen Among 30 St. Joe Candidates

Thirty candidates, including nine lettermen, are taking part in twice daily St. Joe Trojan football practice sessions under the guiding eyes of Coach Tom St. Germain and Dominic Biagioli, new grid assistant.

The squad includes nine seniors.

All-Star Gridders Near Final Drill

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Fortified by a steak on the Chicago Junior Chamber of Commerce, the college All-Stars headed into the next-to-last drill today.

A two-hour general session was scheduled by coach Bobby Dodd. Thursday's final practice will be a brief signal drill.

The collegians, who meet the pro champion Detroit Lions in Soldier Field, Chicago, Friday night, were luncheon guests of the Chicago Jaycees Tuesday.

NCAA Opens Meeting In Chicago Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The semi-annual meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's executive committee and council opens today. Conferences continue through Monday.

One of the major items up for consideration is a report by the membership committee on reported violations of athletic policy by three schools.

Tigers Split With Last Place Browns

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Don Lund's home run bat and Ted Gray's six-hit pitching against the St. Louis Browns finally had the Detroit Tigers back in the victory column today after a seven-game famine.

Detroit beat the last-place Browns 9-3 in the second half of Tuesday's two-night double header, after dropping the opener 5-2.

Aiming to widen their lead over the St. Louis club to 3½ games, the Tigers will send Ralph Branca against the Browns tonight.

The ex-Brooklyn hurler, seeking his third win in five decisions, will face another former National Leaguer, Harry Brecheen.

Tigers Shell Larsen

Detroit batters teed off on rookie hurler Don Larsen in the first inning of the second game last night, and from there in the Tigers stayed out in front.

Lund's homer, with Ray Boone and Jim Delsing on base, was the big blow of the four-run rally. Earlier Harvey Kuenn had scored on Delsing's single.

Delsing's double and a single by Steve Souchock accounted for another run in the third, and the Tigers got two more in the fifth when they chased Larsen. A double by Johnny Pesky, singles by Boone and Souchock and a fly by Lund sent the runs across.

Homers Cost Game

The final Detroit scoring came in the eighth on a double by Lund, singles by Johnny Bucha and Gray and a St. Louis error. Two runs crossed the plate.

Home runs by Roy Sievers and Don Lenhardt spelled defeat for the Tigers in the opener. They had given lefty Billy Hoelt a one-run lead in the sixth on Boone's four-bagger, his 18th of the year.

But Sievers tied things up again in the St. Louis half of the sixth by lining the ball into the seats.

four juniors, eleven sophomores and six freshmen. Candidates are running through conditioning drills as the Trojan mentors begin selecting personnel for the 1953 varsity squad.

Annual Hambletonian Race Is Staged Today

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP) — Some 20,000 racing folk gathered at his cradle of harness racing today to watch 23 three-year-old trotters make strides in the $117,117.98 Hambletonian Stakes.

Today's purse is the richest in the more than 100-year history of the sport and the field is the largest in the Hambletonian since it began in 1926.

First of the mile heats is scheduled for 1 p.m. CST, with other miles at one hour intervals until one horse has won two heats.

Newport Star, winner of his last three starts for Octave Blake's Newport Stock Farm of South Plainfield, N.J., is the probable 8-5 choice. He'll be driven by 33-year-old Del Cameron.

Newport Star, who has trotted a winning mile in 2:04 2-5 this year, will be coupled in the betting with stablemates Newport Mascot and Newport Champ.

Then, two innings later, Lenhardt hung defeat No. 10 on Hoelt by homering with two men on base after two were out.

Antenna Trouble

KANSAS CITY (AP)—With more television stations opening here, City Manager L. P. Cookingham shuddered at the prospect of countless receiver antennas towering over the city's slightly residential areas.

Some cities have so many antennas of varied design and height that they have become "urban uglies," he said. "I hope we can find some means of escaping this."

So he issued an order to department heads: "See if it's possible to require at least some uniformity in antenna design."

Barge Brings Island Timber To Plant Here

A tug-drawn barge carrying 50,000 feet of hardwood logs cut on South Fox Island and sold to the Birds Eye Veneer company here arrived in Escanaba Tuesday and anchored off the old Merchants' dock, now the Chicago and North Western Railway dock.

The barge, towed by a tug owned by John Ingwerson of Traverse City, is the first to bring timber to Escanaba in several years.

The timber shipment consisted of "woods-run" birch, maple and ash. It was cut on the island by John Ingwerson, owner of wood lots on the island.

The 205-foot barge used to haul the timber the 65 miles from the island was owned by Roen Steamship company, Sturgeon Bay, Wis. A crew of three men operated the tug.

The possibility of more timber shipments by barge to Escanaba was indicated yesterday by a Birdseye spokesman.

West Rock 4-H Plans For Fair

ROCK—The West Rock 4-H Club is busy preparing for the U. P. State Fair next week. Last week the members on the float committee met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reino Neimela to complete their plans. The West Rock 4-H club has been elected to represent Marquette County with a float at the U. P. Fair, so now the members are busy making and decorating their float.

A dairy meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Osmo Alto Monday night. The meeting consisted of last minute grooming of cattle in preparation for the fair. Members who attended this meeting were Barbara Strand, Helen Hallinen, Delia Aalto and Jimmy Neimela. It was under the direction of Waino Bakka.

An electrical meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reino Neimela, with Mr. Neimela being the leader for this project. The members finished making the trouble lights and extension cords which they will exhibit at the fair next week. Members who attended were Howard Alto, Jimmy Neimela and Vern Hill. At the next meeting the members will make electric toy motors.

Right Kind Of Germs Makes Yogurt Boom

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEW YORK (NEA)—Did you ever eat a big, creamy bowlful of germs, topped with strawberry preserves? Mmmmm, yummy!

May sound sickening, but if you get the right kind of germs, such as lactobacillus bulgaricus, they're real tasty. And many thousands of Americans are discovering this bacillus banquet, which goes under the name of yogurt and is now off to a slow national boom.

Yogurt is actually cultured milk, which doesn't mean it comes from hoity-toity cows. It's milk to which has been added carefully selected strains of germs. These busy little organisms proceed to make the milk ferment and it changes into a custard-like consistency.

It's a question whether the final product is something to eat or drink. You can do both. As it comes, you can spoon it up. Or you can shake the container and drink it.

THERE ARE GERMS and germs, it seems, so batch of germ-filled yogurt is tested to see there are no wrong ones.

It has a slightly sour taste. That's the way they like it back in Europe, where it is a very popular food-drink. It has a long history, even being mentioned in the Bible. But it was rediscovered by accident in modern times (say 1000 years ago) in the Balkans.

The Bulgarians had a habit of leaving their milk sitting around in the hot Balkan sun. Fortunately for Bulgaria, the germs around there are mostly friendly types, and they settled in the milk and proceeded to spend pleasant afternoons making yogurt. This, the Bulgarians liked.

Since these people live, usually, to a ripe old age, word of the Bulgarians' bacteria making it. The Armenians called it mazoun, the Arabs called it leben, the Indians called it dahi. Over the centuries, it spread across most of Europe.

In 1942, the first commercial attempt to make yogurt in the U.S. began. The company, Dannon Yogurt, is still America's biggest. The head of the concern, a 69-year-old Swiss-born gentleman with a handsome goatee, is Joe Metzger.

"Public acceptance in America," says Metzger, "has been very slow. I'm sorry to say. The American taste is different, so we are making concessions to the American taste. Now we make yogurt with orange and vanilla flavors and with strawberry preserves. Now public acceptance is starting."

It has become a sort of fad food in certain circles, being linked with other health items like wheat germ and blackstrap molasses. Yogurt is supposed to be very good for the digestion—Metzger says it "establishes the normal bacteria flora in the intestines"—and also helpful for people who want to lose weight, because it is filling.

The Dannon plant is completely mechanized, with even the germs on an assembly line basis. The three kinds of germs used breed happily in a tiny laboratory, and are added as the raw milk is pasteurized. After the liquid yogurt is bottled, it sits in an incubator for from two to five hours.

There, in 110 degree heat, the germs go to work and ferment to their nucleus' content. They multiply until there are roughly 250,000,000 germs per cubic centimeter of yogurt. Figure that one out by the spoonful.

Then, Metzger says, "They've grown enough, so we tell the animals to go to sleep." This slumber is induced by sticking the yogurt into the refrigerator.

Whether it's the sweeter flavors or the health food fad, yogurt consumption in America has increased. Dannon turned out 10,000 half pint containers a month in 1942; today they produce 700,000. And now there are competitors across the country.

American seat the stuff plain, or with sweetening agents like honey, or with stuff like cole slaw dumped in, or on cereals at breakfast. It all depends on how you like your germs.

Flies Kill Caterpillars In North Minnesota

ST. PAUL (AP)—Northern Minnesota residents are enduring one kind of pest on assurances from entomologists that it will mean relief from another next spring.

Parasite flies, described, described by State Entomologist T. L. Aamodt as "so numerous as to be temporarily unpleasant" invaded the northern areas on the heels of tent caterpillars.

The caterpillars appeared in greatly reduced numbers this year, largely because of a well-organized campaign. And Aamodt says the parasite flies will invade cocoons the caterpillars spin at this season, killing the caterpillars.

The flies, incidentally, are harmless. The caterpillars live off fresh young vegetation, denuding trees. But Aamodt says they do little permanent damage because they appear early enough so trees can grow another set of leaves.

Measured By TV

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—A television set in the home is the measure of a family's ability to pay for a child's school lunch here in Roanoke.

The school board has put Roanoke families on notice that the parents who find money for a TV set will be expected to find money for junior's lunch.

Although widely grown in the Western Hemisphere, coffee is a native of the Old World.

Plot Layout Of Resilient Floors Carefully

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Home handymen who attempt to install resilient tile floors without practice or instruction find that there's more to it than meets the untrained eye. Floors must be carefully prepared according to tile manufacturers' recommendations. Then comes the even more exacting job of laying out the tile pattern.

The pattern is plotted in the same way for all resilient tiles— asphalt, rubber, linoleum and cork being among them. This column will deal with the common, "on the square" pattern. The other general type of tile pattern is known as "on the diagonal."

First step in planning the pattern layout is to find the center of the floor. Start by locating the centers of two parallel walls, then snap a chalk line on the floor between these two points. The center of the floor is, of course, a point midway the length of the line. It can be fixed by tape-rule measurement.

Now you must do what the trade calls "squaring off" the floor by snapping another chalk line through the center point, exactly at right angles to the first chalk line. The following method of striking the right angle is preferred (for accuracy) above others.

From the center point on the first mentioned chalk line, draw an arc that cuts the line at two points equidistant from the center. Use about a three-foot radius. Using the two points where the arc crosses the chalk line as centers, draw two more separate arcs on both sides of the chalk line. Now snap another line through the points where the last two arcs cross each other. Extend the lines to the other two opposite walls.

Next, determine the number of tiles needed to extend from center to the four walls in order that all border tiles will be the same size for balanced design. This is determined by placing a row of tiles along each of the two center lines, but not on top of the lines.

If the space for the two end tiles in one row turns out to be smaller than the space for those in the other row, one of the chalk lines can be moved a few inches, always being kept at right angles to the other. Thus you can adjust the rows so all end tiles can be cut the same size. Be sure to erase the old chalk line to avoid confusion later.

Now the two temporary rows of tile can be taken up and adhesive spread over half the floor. The proper paste for cementing various types of floors—wood, cement or metal—must be used. Spread it with a notched trowel designed for the job.

Avoid losing sight of the center lines in spreading adhesive by leaving a small exposed spot where the lines cross and other spots where lines meet the walls. Then strike new chalk lines on top of the adhesive, using the old lines as guides.

When the adhesive has set to the point where it no longer sticks to a finger when touched, the first tile is ready to be put in place. Lay it adjacent to a center line with a corner of the tile at the point where the two chalk lines cross. Then lay a row of tiles along each center line, being sure the rows are laid accurately and straight, for they will serve as guides for the rest of the installation.

Starting from the corner of the quadrant where the first tile was laid, install all succeeding tiles as if you were building a pyramid from the top down—the peak of the pyramid being the center of the floor. Avoid sliding tiles into place. Lay all full tiles in each quadrant first. Save all cutting until later.

Private Harbor Set Up In Chicken House

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (AP)—It's a proud harbor with tugboat office, lobster pots, a wharf derrick, tugboats and coastwise schooners, colliers and tankers, a steamship, a ferry and a fisherman. And it's all in the former chicken house of William W. Thomas, 83.

Whittling keeps Thomas busy in his Pawtucket home. But it's more than whittling, steaming boards into shape for the hulls, rigging them, carving tiny eagles for ornamentation, and spot lights. Carving, too, small seagulls which rest on warf pilings. Painting them—each with its name.

Making things is nothing new to Thomas. He looks around his house and tells you, "Built every stick of it myself."

He'd Fiddle Away The Stoplight Blues

VIOLINIST OSSY RENARDY: Three B's for the horn-blowers.

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—Don't be surprised, one of these days, if you pull up at a traffic light and suddenly find yourself surrounded by a Bach fugue. It's all Ossy Renardy's idea.

Renardy is a concert violinist. He is also a man with a great sense of civic consciousness, which has been aroused of late by the traffic problem. Angry taxi-drivers, grumpy pedestrians and screaming brakes have disturbed Renardy's musical soul. The situation, he feels, stinks.

And the answer is music. At least that's what he says.

"The trouble with taxi-drivers suffering from jangled nerves," he says, "and car owners with high blood pressure and cops with short tempers and pedestrians with a grouch is that they don't get enough Bach, Mozart, Paganini and Beethoven."

He thinks he can cure the jangled nerves, high blood pressure, short tempers and grouchiness with a dose of good music. He wants to see all busy intersections equipped with loud speakers playing nice, pleasant tunes. Synchronize the music with the traffic lights, says Renardy.

Specifically, he thinks Bach fugues, Chopin ballades and Paganini caprices are just the ticket to make traffic flow smoothly and drivers love each other. Those numbers are melodic enough to keep everyone happy, but not so catchy that motorists will get the urge to tromp down on the accelerator pedals in time with the rhythm.

"Just a little music," says the violinist, with a civic gleam in his eye, "can transform unhappy motorists into real swell eggs. As a result, it would be safer to cross the streets."

This trafficky utopia of Renardy would come complete with smiling taxi-drivers, humming pedestrians, and policemen directing cars with all the grace of symphony conductors.

The result of the injection of Bach into Broadway and Mussorgsky into Main Street would be, says Renardy, a reduction in accidents. Drivers would be calmer pedestrians less daring and life a trifle easier. Presumably the only blowouts would be in the key of A-Flat.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Children Get More Book Power Blind Sculptress Produces Her Figures From Shadows

PITTSBURGH—Far more books reach American classrooms today than 200, 100 or even 50 years ago. This new book power is shown in a recent study by Dr. John Nietz, professor of education at the University of Pittsburgh.

A typical 6th grade pupil today uses eight textbooks, he says, and four supplementary pamphlets weighing 11½ pounds with 3,115 pages of reading matter.

THIN piles of books used by 1750 6th graders held by Ronald Fibus.

Compare that with the three small texts and perhaps a Hornbook, together weighing six ounces and totalling 272 pages, commonly used by the early American pupil in 1750.

The 1750 youngster, Nietz says,

Advice By Preacher: K p Sermons Calm

LODI, Calif. (AP)—Don't place religion on an emotional basis, Dr. Taylor G. Bunch of Washington, D. C., told a Seventh-day Adventist camp meeting here.

"Don't yell at your congregation," he advised, "because it turns people away from the church." And, he cautioned, don't pound the pulpit, wail or beat the air with arms going like a windmill.

"I can't imagine Christ, the world's foremost preacher, doing any of these things," said Dr. Bunch, pastor of the largest Adventist Church in the U. S.

used the New England primer, perhaps a Psalter and occasionally an arithmetic. He likely began with a Hornbook, a small, paddle-like object made of anything from wood to ginger-bread, upon which the alphabet was printed or engraved.

Today's 6th grade pupil studies spelling, health, science (with four supplementary pamphlets), arithmetic, music, English, reading and geography.

Nietz says our education began in all-day Sunday school sessions, because children worked during the week, and almost all teaching was of a religious nature. Then along came the prolific textbook authors—of which Noah Webster was the first. Pupils in the 1800 sixth-grade were using Webster's Blue-Back Speller, in addition to a reader, a geography and an arithmetic, totalling 972 pages and weighing 1 lb., 11 oz.

By 1850, when another prolific author was well established in the field—William McGuffey—the pupils were studying reading, spelling, geography, arithmetic and grammar, totalling 1280 pages and weighing 2 lbs., 13 oz. Over the 100-year period the 6th grader's subjects had increased by only two, but the number of pages he had to read had increased by 1,008.

The next half-century saw a great change in the 6th grade curriculum. By 1900, Nietz says, the pupil was generally studying spelling, reading, arithmetic, physiology, grammar, drawing, penmanship and history, an increase of three subjects, 4 lbs. 3 oz. and 712 pages in 50 years.

While the curriculum itself has not increased since 1900, there have been some changes in subject matter, namely music and science. Today's 6th grade pupil digests 2,843 more pages of reading matter than did his 1750 counterpart, and he's using five more textbooks plus his supplementary pamphlets.

Nietz makes no prediction for the future. When we try to incorporate atomic developments, jet propulsion, space travel and the complicated geographical and historical doings of today into tomorrow's textbooks, he says, who knows what the 6th-grade curriculum will consist of in the year 2000?

Blind Sculptress Produces Her Figures From Shadows

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent
PARIS (NEA)—"It is not astonishing," said Ginette Leroi simply. "My father was a talented engraver and my mother paints."

You had to listen very carefully to catch her words. The 69th All-Women Exhibition of Painting, Sculpture and Decorative Arts here was buzzing with spectators. Most of them stopped at Ginette's clay nude, "Awakening."

"Besides," she half-whispered, "I love everything beautiful. And I have tried to express this in clay."

According to some experts, 18-year-old Ginette has accomplished the wonder of "molding shadows." The shadows of her own world.

For Ginette—Genevieve Leroi—has been totally blind since she was four.

It was at the National Institute for the Blind that she was first discovered. Raika, a famous Yugoslav sculptor, had come to teach and stayed to marvel at the girl's work.

"She has a sensitivity, a suppleness, a dexterity," said Raika, "such as I have never yet found in my seeing pupils."

But Ginette sees. She has been to the Rodin museum with her mother and with her quick fingers she has "seen" the warm, beautiful world of bronze art.

And with her sister she has been to the Sainte Chapelle. There stands the whole history of creation in bas-relief. She could not "see" it all at once, for the weather was cold and she would have to stop often and warm her hands.

Her family comes from Caen. But during the heavy Allied bombing that preceded D-Day, her father died of a heart attack. Their home was destroyed and the Leroi moved to Paris in the wake of advancing troops.

Her schooling was irregular. She could not master science or mathematics and so her professors let her follow her artistic instinct. Not only clay modelling, but ceramics became her avenues of expression. And in the past months she has been learning to play the organ.

For The Birds

FAYETTE, Mo. (AP)—The sparrows and starlings were getting so thick around the courthouse that people stayed away in droves. Tirenmen tried to hose them from the trees.

The birds loved the water and flocked to the area in even greater number. Anyway, the sidewalks were cleaner for a while.

"Yet," she said, "I realize that I must learn to do something useful because art is not a very dependable source of income."

And so, for several hours each day, she learns the trade of chair "But," she whispers from out of her showy world, "I'm not very good at it. I don't know if I'm doing it right or not."

Gas Mask Idea Revolutionizes Army Artificial Respiration

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
ARMY CHEMICAL CENTER, EDGEWOOD, Md. — (NEA) — The Army Chemical Corps has developed a simple artificial respiration gadget which revolutionizes the technique of reviving troops who have been overcome by gas in the field. The device also has wide application for industrial, mine-safety and other civilian disaster and fire-fighting uses.

A Zone Control For Heating Can Add To Comfort

The sprawling, one story home which has become more popular in recent years can be heated more adequately if the building is properly zoned.

A typical house has three natural divisions, according to the heating experts: Living - dining area, service area, and sleeping quarters.

It is impossible for one thermostat to sense the heating requirements of all three areas. Any thermostat, no matter how good it might be, can only measure the temperature near its location.

The principle is the same whether the heat is distributed by radiators, convectors, panels or baseboards. Owners of hot water heating systems, for example, can have separate thermostatic control of the temperatures in the three natural zones of the house by using three thermostats.

Each thermostat will control a separate pump or valve for the three zones. Thus, overheating—as well as underheating—can be prevented. Fuel economy can be achieved, as well as greater living comfort.

attached between two standard Army M-9 gas masks. It employs one of the oldest and best methods of artificial respiration yet devised: that of direct breathing into the victim's mouth.

Inventors of the device are Dr. Richard J. Johns, now at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, and Dr. David Y. Cooper, now teaching at the University of Pennsylvania Medical School. They were on active duty with the Chemical Corps when they worked on the project.

Their official report says the field resuscitator has advantages over both the manual methods of reviving gas victims and the use of machine resuscitators.

Because it is simple and small it can be carried in a gas mask case, which means that every soldier has one with him. It's easier to learn how to use than mastering the manual technique of artificial respiration. And it is far more effective.

The carbon dioxide in the exhaled breath of a human actually acts as a stimulant to the lungs of a person who has been overcome.

The device also has the advantage of being able to be used while both the patient and the person administering the treatment are in a gas-contaminated area.

The use of the tube is extremely simple. The operator breathes in normally. Then he covers an outlet valve on the hose with his hand, after which he exhales air into the casualty. When he removes his hand from the valve the casualty expels the forced air out through the valve.

It is easy for the operator to catch the rhythm of the action and continue until the patient is able to breathe normally.

The process can also be combined with a supplementary manual artificial respiration in severe cases.

The principle involved in the device could be applied to any kind of gas mask.

The Army is now making extensive tests with it and it is believed likely that it will eventually be made standard equipment issued along with gas masks.

Newest Fish Story Wired For Sound

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent
WOODS HOLE, Mass. (NEA)—Did you hear about the one that got away? Must have weighed 20 pounds and had the nicest baritone voice.

Fish story? Nonsense. Scientists have long known that fish make noise, and nowadays they're trying to find out how, why, and which fish make what noises. And they're succeeding.

A man from the Woods Hole, Mass., Oceanographic Institution took himself up to the lower Saguenay River, at the mouth of the St. Lawrence Gulf. This is a hangout for white whales. He got a boat, an underwater microphone and a recorder and listened.

And he came to the conclusion that white whales make a noise like a Bronx cheer. They also squeal and mew.

The whole business of loud fish goes back to 1907. Before then most people thought fish were deaf and dumb—hard of hearing. But, in that year, Krummel, a German, wrote that fish make sounds like "zischen, schurren, kurren, knauen, grunzen, trommeln und pfeifen." Pretty smart fish, speaking German that way.

Later, scientists of other nations heard the sounds, too. They reported all sorts of weird noises coming from the oceans' depths—from high-pitched sounds to bass voices. Gradually, more and more different sounds were catalogued.

TO LISTEN IN on noisy fish, hydrophone is lowered into sea from deck of Oceanographic Institution research ship.

The latest expedition, by the institution's vessel, Caryn, went to the Atlantic off Bermuda, south-east of Filadelfia. They were equipped with a big reel of cable, several underwater mikes, a battery of Gray Audograph recorders and plenty of deep water, because the ocean floor is two miles below the surface there.

They let the Caryn's motors stop, to give the fish no competition, and the 97-foot ketch just drifted. And then, up from the briny, came amazing sounds. The scientists find it difficult to describe what they heard; they rely on such unscientific words as "whoops" and "whistles" and "screams."

The problem, of course, is to tell which fish is making what noise. Unfortunately, fish in captivity usually clam up.

So, temporarily, the scientists are calling the unknown fish after the noise they produce—there is the whoop-whoop, the woodpecker and the propeller. One day, they hope to put two and two together, and maybe you'll eat fried file of whoop-whoop yet.

A second problem is to figure out how a fish makes noise. Fish have no vocal chords. They reason that some rub their fins, others drum on their air bladders, and some grind their teeth. There are still come puzzlers, and scientists can't figure how they make noise.

The most puzzling aspect of the whole business is why fish make the noise they do. Nobody knows, but there are many theories. And

Wood Under Ground Needs A Preservative

Wood used beneath the surface of the ground, such as in clothes line posts, fence posts, and supports for arbors, should be protected against rot by the application of preservatives. These preservatives, mainly chlorinated phenols and zinc naphthenates, penetrate the pores of the wood and help it withstand the attacks of destructive fungi. Creosote and copper naphthenate can be used for the same purpose, but tend to bleed thru any paint coating—except, possibly, aluminum—that is applied over them. Any type of paint can be applied successfully over the chlorinated phenols and zinc naphthenates.

it's important, because when the answer is known, they may be ways of sonically controlling the fish population—keeping them out of some areas, luring them to others.

One theory is that the noise has something to do with mating. Another is that it's a sound of warning. And there are some who say that fish make noise just for the halibut.

Travel Tips To Avoid Damaging Your Suitcases

If you are not sure that cosmetic bottle and jars you intend to pack for a trip are leakproof, here is a sure fire way of arriving at your destination with their contents intact. Wrap each one in aluminum foil and carefully seal edges.

An extra piece of aluminum foil also makes an ideal covering for a wet piece of soap, thus saving the space a soap box takes.

Another handy packing tip is to save a discarded lipstick case—one with a snug cover—and use it for the necessary thread and needles for travel emergencies.

And, of course, a bottle of colorless nail polish is a must for all travelers. A tiny dab will stop a run in a pair of hose; it can be used to smooth out frayed belt edges, and it makes an ideal sealing cover for perfume bottles.

WARPS FRYING PAN

Never pour liquid into a very hot frying pan. The sudden change in temperature may cause warping.

New Tool Grips Blocks, Spares Mashed Fingers

AP Newsfeatures
A NEW TOOL for lifting and setting concrete and cinder blocks has been designed to reduce the number of mashed fingers and worn out gloves encountered in such masonry work.
The tool comprises a sort of reverse ice tong arrangement fitting into the core openings of hollow blocks. The block is then lifted by the tool handle and placed into its mortar bed. Two spirit levels, one in the handle to give fore and aft readings, and one for cross checking, show when the block is properly placed, eliminating constant separate use of a level.

This device, called a Lay-Level, is being marketed through hardware and building supply houses, priced at $5.95. (Manufacturer is Lay-Level, Inc., Box 99, Toledo 9, Ohio.)

Backyard Barbecues Make Most Of Season

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
GET THE MOST out of warm days and cool nights by eating al fresco—on the terrace or by romantic candlelight on the porch.
A hard-to-resist assortment of outdoor equipment is available to tempt you. Or you may make an outdoor barbecue in a jiffy by assembling bricks in a square of about two feet and about a foot high. Over this put the grill from your oven, leaving a good place below for charcoal.
Many more guests may be entertained outdoors than one would dream of serving indoors. And in case of rain guests may adjourn to a covered porch where an infrared rotisserie broiler might be used to keep everybody in a barbecue frame of mind.

STAINLESS STEEL makes attractive place settings in hard-to-distinguish -from -silver patterns for outdoors. One is available in a portable chest for easy mobility. Handsome pots and pans of stainless steel with aluminum bottoms assure even cooking for inexperienced chefs. Self-assured cooks like the heat-resistant handles of these pans.
New cookbooks emphasize the casual dining theme. One forthcoming cookbook (Roto-Broil Cook Book) offers all sorts of recipes for rotisserie broiling.

A HE-MAN FAVORITE like Canadian bacon takes on special party airs when rubbed with mustard and brown sugar and placed on skewer spit to barbecue at medium heat for 45 minutes. It is basted with white wine and then barbecued for another 5 or 10 minutes, according to a recipe in the book.
Hamburger gets de luxe treatment, too, by mixing 1 lb. of ground beef, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 clove minced garlic, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons light cream, 2 tablespoons wine (Marsala), Shape 4 cakes about 1 inch thick, wrapping each in 2 bacon strips crosswise. Place in grill-spit. Grill at medium heat for 10 minutes, turn to high heat and grill for another 10 minutes for a real gourmet hamburger.

Oysters may be wrapped in bacon slices, fastened with tooth-

Pictures For Radio
CUSHING, Okla. (AP) — Ted Brown, western disc jockey on radio station KWHP, has reversed this "send me your picture" routine with his radio audience.
